FARM BUILDINGS NEAR DIXON AND POLO DESTROYED

Lightning Caused Fires At Warner and Donald- son Farms Today

Lightning, which accompanied a heavy thunder storm which passed over Dixon and vicinity this morning shortly after 4 o'clock, struck the large cattle barn on the H. C. Warner farm in the Bend east of the city, tenanted by the Andrew Wohrley family, who were aroused 4:15 by the crash.

Several tons of new hay, which had been stored in the barn only recently, a number of brood sows, litters of pigs and some machinery were consumed by the flames, which spread rapidly to all parts of the structure. In spite of a heavy down pour of rain the large building was soon a roaring furnace. The Wohrley family had been awakened by the storm and were about the house. Mr. Wohrley immediately summoned the community fire truck which was rushed to the scene by Firemen Albert Fordyce and Leo Fane and proved of valuable assistance in preventing the flames spreading to adjoining out buildings and the residence.

About 30 hogs were lost in the fire, condition of the carcasses indicating that several were killed when the lightning bolt struck the barn while others perished in the flames. The loss was reported to have been partially covered by insurance.

FARM FIRE NEAR POLO (Telegraph Special Service)

Polo, Aug. 24.—(AP)—A large barn on the Carlton Donaldson farm, two miles northeast of Polo, was struck by lightning at 3:30 o'clock this morning and completely destroyed by the resultant fire. The Donaldsons were awakened by the bolt, saw the fire and called the Polo fire department. The blaze was out of control, however, when the department arrived at the farm. The heavy rain aided the firemen in saving the other buildings on the farm. The barn and its contents—ten tons of hay—were covered by insurance.

BOLT KILLS FARMER

Chicago, Aug. 24.—(AP)—A Marengo farm worker was killed by lightning and his companion knocked unconscious, as cooler weather, accompanied by local showers, overspread Illinois today.

Vernon Marsh, 19, of Marengo, was killed while picking corn in a field four and a half miles northeast of Belvidere. The bolt also felled his cousin, Charles Stogsdill, 19, Woodstock, burning his right foot, and killed one of a team of mules hitched to their wagon. Both youths were employed by a Belvidere canning company.

Forecaster J. R. Lloyd said the seasonal temperatures would remain for at least two days, not exceeding 72 degrees in Chicago or going above the eighties downtown.

Showers were predicted for the south and central portions tonight and the southeast tomorrow.

Suicide of Broker Reveals Shortage

Chicago, Aug. 24.—(AP)—A coroner's jury decided today that Leslie B. Krumstick, 45, vice president of the Fort Dearborn Securities Corporation, committed suicide shortly before investigators of the state's attorney's blue sky division began examining the firm's books.

The jury decided he took his life while temporarily insane due to worry over financial difficulties.

His body was found yesterday in an automobile parked in a forest preserve west of Des Plaines. A hose led from the exhaust pipe through a partly opened window of the car.

Investigators seized the books in a raid on the company's offices last night. Assistant State's Attorney John Phillips announced a shortage of $25,000 in the firm's accounts.

Herman J. Holle, secretary, told Phillips he did not believe "the shortage will exceed $15,000."

"It came about," he said, "because Krumstick carried accounts for the firm with large brokerage houses and they sold us out last October. He let the loss go to this company instead of the customers."

FINED HIMSELF

Ottawa, Ill., Aug. 24.—(AP)—Justice of the Peace Edward J. Murray, finding on his car a police ticket for double parking, went into his own court today and pleaded guilty. He fined himself $1 and costs.

Lost by a Nose

Peoria, Ill., Aug. 24.—(AP)—It was Charles Hickman's long, thin and pointed nose that helped police solve 14 lovers' lane holdups.

All of the couples, who were robbed while parked along quiet roadsides, described the robber's nose as long, thin and pointed.

Then the police received a letter from Glenn Morrison of Connellsville, Pa., who wanted to know something about the man who married his daughter, 16. He wrote that his son-in-law's name was Charles Hickman, that he lived in Peoria and enclosed a photograph.

Police Chief Leo F. Kamins quickly noticed the man had a long and thin and pointed nose. The police found Hickman, and Kamins said he confessed 14 holdups and named an accomplice. Four victims identified him as the robber.

Hickman, who was charged with robbery with a gun, said he came to Peoria alone from Connellsville July 31.

PROBE GRANTED INTO TYDING'S PRIMARY WORK

Washington, Aug. 24.—(AP)—The senate campaign expenditures committee ordered today the investigation asked by Representative Lewis into the conduct of the campaign of his opponent for the Democratic senatorial nomination in Maryland, Senator Tydings.

Chairman Sheppard (D-Tex.) said committee investigators would be sent into Maryland within the next day or two to inquire into the sponsorship of advertisements appearing in Maryland newspapers asserting that Lewis' campaign was being financed by the C. I. O.

Lewis had contended the C. I. O. advertisements were authorized by Fred A. Dolfield, treasurer of the Tydings campaign committee. He urged that a report be made by the committee as to their truth.

Sheppard said that since no contribution from the C. I. O. had been listed by Lewis in a previous report to the committee, the inquiry was being made on the basis of determining whether such a contribution had been omitted.

He referred to a committee agent charges by Senator Berry (D-Tenn.) that two WPA officials in Tennessee had been active in the pre-primary campaign of A. T. Stewart, who defeated Berry for the Democratic nomination. Berry also outlined several other charges involving alleged misuse of the WPA for political purposes.

Capt. Wimpleberg Sues Rockfordite

Captain Gus Wimpleberg, commanding Co. A, 129th infantry of this city, has filed suit against George C. Hunt of Rockford in the Winnebago county circuit court in which he seeks damages amounting to $12,500 allegedly incurred in an automobile accident May 7 at Camp Grant, west of Rockford.

In one suit, Captain Wimpleberg is asking $10,000 on behalf of his daughter, Miss Janet, aged 13, for injuries suffered by her when cars driven by the plaintiff and defendant collided at an intersection in the camp. The girl, according to the complaint, suffered shock and injury to her nervous system. In the other suit, Captain Wimpleberg seeks $2,500 for medical expense incurred in treatment of his daughter's injuries and for damage to his car.

Big Buddy Boys Club Project Now Part of Illinois Legion Program

The Big Buddy Boys' club movement in Dixon, originated by Commander-elect J. M. Brady of Dixon post, No. 12, American Legion, yesterday became statewide when a resolution presented at the closing session of the Legion department convention at Rockford was unanimously adopted. Commander-elect Brady was a member of the resolutions committee and in presenting the Big Buddy Boys' club program, was allowed 35 minutes before the committee to explain its purposes.

The success of the venture in Dixon and the whole-hearted acceptance accorded it by business men and citizens, was cited before the committee. The Big

TELLS HOW WIFE DISFIGURED SELF BECAUSE OF SIN

Husband Reports Woman Followed Instructions Of the Bible

District Attorney F. A. Silveira quoted Harwell as saying he and his young stepsons knelt in prayer yesterday afternoon in their one-room cabin while his 26-year-old wife read from the Bible.

She read Matthew 18:9: "And if thy hand or thy foot causeth thee to stumble, cut it off, and cast it from thee; it is good for thee to enter into life maimed or halt, rather than having two hands or two feet to be cast into the eternal fire."

"And if thine eye causeth thee to stumble, pluck it out, and cast it from thee; it is good for thee to enter life with one eye, rather than having two eyes to be cast into the hell of fire."

Hand Offended Her
Mrs. Harwell rose from prayer, her husband related, saying her left hand offended her and she wished forgiveness for her sins.

She went outside the cabin, Harwell said, and gouged out her eye with a pair of scissors. Then she placed her hand against a cement pipe and hacked it off with an axe. Harwell said she struck her wrist three times before she severed the offending hand.

The cotton picker said his wife came back into the cabin "apparently without pain." He bound her wrist and two hours later summoned an ambulance. At Mercy hospital doctors said the woman was in good condition and would survive.

The wrist was so badly mutilated surgeons had to sever the arm further up.

Silveira said the husband was held for questioning because authorities did not believe it was possible for the woman to chop off her own hand.

Rites for William Meyers Tomorrow

The funeral of William Meyers, who dropped dead Tuesday morning at the Dixon Sand & Gravel company's plant, where he was employed, will be held at 2 P. M. Thursday at the Preston funeral at 2 o'clock, Rev. William E. Thompson, pastor of the Church of the Brethren officiating. Interment will be in Oakwood, Members of Dixon post, No. 12, American Legion will have charge of the services at the grave.

At the inquest conducted at the Preston funeral home yesterday afternoon by Dr. Kenyon B. Segner, coroner, the jury returned a verdict finding that the sudden death was due to an embolism.

At Vacation's End

Sacramento, Aug. 24.—(AP)—Drew C. Walker was skeptical when Louis Greenberg, Houston, Tex., boasted of the size of Texas watermelons.

"Send me a melon over 100 pounds and I'll eat it at one sitting," Walker said.

There's a 106-pound melon awaiting his return from a vacation.

TATTERED QUILT LEADS TO PROBE OF OHIO DEATHS

Cleveland, Aug. 24.—(AP)—Detectives questioned eight men and a woman today after police followed the trail of a tattered quilt, prime clew in Cleveland's twelve "torso killings," to a rag shop only two blocks from a field where a woman's dissected body was found nearly three years ago.

Detectives under Sgt. James McDonald descended on the rag shop after a junk collector, Elmer Cummings, 56, told them he had disposed of the quilt, found wrapped about the torso of the 11th victim, at the shop five weeks ago.

Police Inspector Charles O. Nevel, who said the quilt was "the only real clew" in the three-year-old mystery, hoped one of the nine would shed light on the person who wrapped the quilt around the fifth woman to die in the bizarre series of killings.

The rag shop where the junk man disposed of the quilt is but two blocks from the field where the dissected body of Mrs. Florence Polillo, 42, victim No. 3, was found in January, 1936. Her head was never found. Parts of her body had been placed in baskets.

Police sought out the junk man after Charles Damyan, a barber, told of giving the quilt with some clothing to a junk collector last month.

Judges Selected For Horse Show

Three of the country's outstanding authorities on saddle horses will judge the various classes in the annual Lee county fair and Horse Show which will be held Friday, Saturday and Sunday at the Dixon Municipal Airport. For the first time since the shows were started in Dixon, a member of feminine sex will be one of the judges.

Miss Mary Yocum of Galva, Ill., instructor of horsemanship at Stevens college, Columbia, Mo., has accepted the invitation extended by Dr. Grover Moss to act as one of the judges. R. A. Lumpkin of Mattoon, Ill., one of the foremost breeders of saddle horses in the central west whose stable is shown at the largest horse shows in the country, and Dr. P. C. Fletcher of Geneva, Ill., will complete the judging staff for the three day event.

Dr. Z. W. Moss, president of the association, announced today that the taxi lines of the city had agreed to cooperate in the transportation of patrons without cars from Dixon to the Airport before and after the shows on the three days. A special rate of ten cents per passenger each way from the cab stands will be charged.

No Use for Red Ink in Two U. S. Cities

Chicago, Aug. 24.—(AP)—They don't use red ink on the city books at Venice, Ill., and Menomonee, Wis.

A survey by the International City Manager's association showed today that the two municipalities were completely solvent.

Three other Illinois cities—Wheaton, Batavia and Naperville—had no general funded debt, the survey showed.

These conditions were uncovered by a study of municipal indebtedness in 314 cities between 5,000 and 10,000 population.

Miami Beach, Fla., had general funded debt of $5,693,000, the highest of any of the cities covered in the survey.

Driving Lesson

Syracuse, N. Y., Aug. 24.—(AP)—Henry Thomas, nationally known harness race driver and handler of McLin Hanover, winner of the 1938 Hambletonian, chuckled over this one today.

He was driving his car along one of the city's boulevards at a fast clip when ordered by a motorcycle patrolman to "pull over."

"What you need is a lesson in driving," he said the officer told him, "you ought to get a horse."

Thomas said "everybody got a laugh out of it" at police headquarters where he was taken to post bail. He was fined $10.

"I guess they meant it," Thomas chuckled.

LICENSED IN IOWA

A marriage license has been issued in Clinton, Iowa, to Thomas Clarence Kepty and Pearl Waits, both of Sterling, Ill.

OREGON PLAE-DAE

Pros from the surrounding area and over 100 golfers are expected at the Rock River Golf club's "Plae-Dae" at Oregon tomorrow. Play will start at 1 o'clock to be followed by dinner in the evening. The Plae-Dae is open to all sportsmen and prizes will be given for low net scores.

SCOUT MEETING

All Scouts from Dixon and towns throughout Lee county will attend a district meeting to be held at the hotel Nachusa Thursday evening at 6:30. Dinner will be served at that hour to be followed by a business meeting which will be presided over by A. A. Stocker, area Scout executive. All Scouts of Lee county are urged to attend this gathering.

EXHAUSTED PIGEON

A homing pigeon, exhausted and faint with hunger, picked the right place to seek rest this morning, when it fluttered to earth at the Dixon Hatchery on E. First street. It was given food, water and care throughout the day by the attendants. Its metal leg band is marked "Aug. 38 LV 2113," and the rubber band bears the numbers 535.

LIONS CLUB MET

"If I had Twenty Minutes to Live," was the subject of an interesting talk made by Henry Hey at Tuesday's luncheon meeting of the Lions' club at the Dixon Country club. C. L. Baylock of the international office of the organization in Chicago, was a visitor and also spoke. Dr. S. P. Stackhouse presided, with 15 members attending.

CORPS TO DRILL

Members of the Junior Legion drum and bugle corps will meet Thursday evening at 7 o'clock at the Legion hall for the final drill for the competition Sunday evening at the Lee county fair and horse show at the Airport. Several corps from surrounding cities will be entered in the competition which is to be featured at the closing of the show starting at 7:30 Sunday evening.

"PEEPING TOM" CAUGHT

Police were called to Tenth street and Peoria avenue last night when it was reported that a "Peeping Tom" was active in the neighborhood, his actions having been observed for some time. A Dixonite who Chief Van Bibber stated had been arrested for similar offenses on previous occasions, was taken in custody and taken to the station, where he was "scolded" and released for lack of evidence to warrant prosecution.

ASHTON ROBBERIES

Sheriff Ward Miller and Deputy Gilbert Finch were called to Ashton this morning to investigate two robberies, which were believed to have occurred early this morning. The Godfrey & Champlain Ford garage was entered and partially ransacked, then the robbers forced an entrance into a lunch car across the street. At both places rear windows were broken to gain entrance and a few packages of cigarettes were taken.

TO EXHIBIT HERE

Walnut Future Farmers and 4-H club members won eight firsts in the state fair Junior Department livestock exhibit. Several of these prize winners are planning to exhibit here on Friday at the Lee County Fair and Horse Show. Those who will be here will be: Omer Baumgartner, Clifford Heaton, Tom Durham, Neale Anderson, Verden Bruers, Louis Gonigam, Carolyn Gonigam and Marion Mau.

AMERICAN PILOT OF CHINESE SHIP IS FORCED DOWN

Plane is Machine-Gunned Killing or Wounding 14 of 17 Aboard

Hongkong, Aug. 24.—(AP)—The American pilot of a Chinese airliner reported today that Japanese warplanes had forced him to set his plane down near Canton and then machine-gunned it, killing or wounding at least 14 of the 17 persons aboard.

H. L. Woods, of Hays, Kansas, the pilot, reached Macao unhurt. All others on the plane were Chinese. The forced landing was made on a small river between Canton and Macao, Portuguese colony 50 miles to the south.

Woods sent this message to the China National Aviation corporation, owners of the plane:

"Landed on river okay. Japanese machine-gunned us, killing or wounding 12 passengers, also co-pilot and steward. Radio operator Loh, one passenger and myself survived. Other 14 unaccounted for. Ship sunk in river."

Other reports said C. N. Lou, the Chinese passenger who reached Macao with Woods also had a bullet wound and was rushed to a hospital for an operation.

Earlier it was reported that some of the passengers had disappeared when they fled for safety in the fields.

En Route to Chungking
The airliner encountered the Japanese planes southwest of Canton while it was flying from Hongkong to Wuchow, in Kwangsi province, enroute to Chungking, present seat of civilian branches of the Chinese government.

Officials of the C. N. A. C. said the Japanese probably thought one of the passengers was Dr. Sun Fo, head of the legislative council of China, just returned from Europe, where he tried to enlist Soviet Russian, British and other foreign aid for China's fight against Japan. He had made reservations but cancelled them.

A British gunboat and Chinese troops set out from Canton to search for any further survivors of the attack.

The airliner left Hongkong at 8:05 A. M. and 30 minutes later Woods radioed: "Japanese planes chasing us." Only three minutes later this message was received: "Forced land river. All safe." No further word was received from Woods until he reached Macao.

Believed Premeditated

A C. N. A. C. official said: "There is no doubt that the attack was entirely premeditated. The plane was clearly marked and was on a regularly scheduled run."

"The assumption is that the pilot landed in shallow water with his wheels partly up as the only way to protect the passengers. "There is no information as to how many Japanese planes participated in forcing the transport down."

It was disclosed that Dr. Sun, changing his plans overnight,

Ready for Career

Marion, Ill., Aug. 24.—(AP)—John Paul at 61 is ready for his career.

He completed a correspondence course in "complete coal mining" and received a diploma. Paul began the course as a young man but let it slide after a few lessons.

The only trouble now is—he's already a retired coal miner.

Midsummer Madness and Swingtime Jamboree Synonymous to Officers

Chicago, Aug. 24.—(AP)—Midsummer madness and swingtime jamboree were terms practically synonymous today to 500 Chicago policemen.

They ran up against a swaying, shuffling throng of more than 100,000 jitterbugs last night.

The devotees of swing—alligators to the initiate—overflowed Soldier Field to make up the biggest crowd in the mammoth lake front stadium's history.

They came to participate in a gigantic free jam session sponsored by Chicago New Century committee and the Chicago Daily Times. Fifty-seven swing bands were on hand to get them in the groove.

Gets Man's Job

Asheville, N. C., Aug. 24.—(AP)—Malley, WPA client whose last name was not given, is doing a man's work now—but only after a turn in the sewing room.

He applied for a job recently and was accepted. A stenographer transcribing his name wrote it "Malley."

After he had been on his job some time, this letter came to the WPA offices:

"I have never worked a button hole in my life, and I can't run a sewing machine. It's all I can do to even thread a needle. I want to ask you to please try to find some work for me besides what you have assigned me to in the sewing room."

"I want work mighty bad, and if you can't find any other work for me, I will go to the sewing room, but I don't feel like I can stand it in there with all those women."

A quick recheck followed.

"Malley" became "Malley" in the records, and a more masculine assignment was made.

'MODEL MAN' IS HELD TO GRAND JURORS' ACTION

Chicago, Aug. 24.—(AP)—Rudolph Sikora awaited grand jury action today in connection with the killing of Edward Solomon for whose love Mrs. Margaret Sikora, 22, left the husband she called "perfect."

A coroner's jury recommended yesterday that Sikora be held on a charge of murder. His county jail guards said he was a model prisoner. He discussed his hobby, photography, with them and read an amateur photographers' magazine.

Three bystanders testified they saw Sikora walk across a busy north side intersection Monday and shoot Solomon five times while muttering "You rat! You home wrecker!" Sikora, 31, a dispatchers' clerk for the elevated lines, and Margaret were married three years ago.

She called him a "model man" and a "perfect husband" but said she didn't love him. She worked alongside Solomon, 35, in an accounting firm office.

She testified she grew fond of Solomon, realized she loved him about eight months ago, began going out with him in April and left her husband six weeks ago. Her mother, Mrs. Elizabeth Boehme, praised Sikora as a dutiful husband and said her daughter grew "cold and hardened" as her friendship with Solomon developed.

Sikora did not testify at the inquest.

Weekly Crop Report Issued at Capital

Springfield, Ill., Aug. 24.—(AP) Continued heavy showers over northern Illinois delayed oats threshing the past week while the soil remained too dry for plowing in central and southern areas, the weather bureau said today in its weekly report.

"Corn condition is generally average to very good. However, crop prospects have been somewhat lowered in many localities by the late arrival of showers," the report stated.

Grasshoppers were declared to be "numerous" in a number of western counties. Pastures were said to be holding up well and fall apple picking underway in southernmost counties. Soybean condition was termed average to very good.

Under-Secretary of Treasury Resigned

Hyde Park, N. Y., Aug. 24.—(AP)—President Roosevelt accepted today the resignation of Roswell Magill, his under secretary of the treasury, with an expression of "genuine regret."

Magill, who has been the treasury's top tax expert for a year and a half, recalled in a letter to the President that he had accepted his appointment in January, 1937, with the understanding he would return to his professorship in the Columbia University law school this September.

Polo, Aug. 24.—The funeral of Roy West, 53, who passed away Monday afternoon, will be held at the home, 705 West Mason street, at 9:30 o'clock Thursday morning, after which the body will be taken to Aledo, where services will be held at the Methodist church at 2 o'clock, with burial in the Aledo cemetery.

THE CLOUDED MOON

By MAX SALTSMARSH

THE CHARACTERS
Hugo Stern, handsome author, living on the French Riviera.
Archibald Lumsden, myself, Hugo's friend.
Rene Geiss, a singularly unpleasant cartoonist.

Yesterday: Jean-Francois tours Geiss's house, and breaks into a secret room which holds nothing but the statue of a goat. He trails the cleaning woman to the Chateau la Vague.

Chapter 15 Law and Disorder

When Jean-Francois had gone, I sought out Hugo and gave him the gist of Jean-Francois's report. "I suppose," he commented when I had done, "that you're thinking that this bears out Melanie Willis's letter?"

"More than that," I told him. "It's made up my mind for me. Hugo's there's a definite connection proved between that hotel and Geiss, and I propose to pack up my traps and shift there this afternoon."

He opened his mouth to protest, but I checked him. "I know it's wild and crazy," I said, "but the situation I'm in is even wilder and crazier. I'm suspected of a murder I didn't do, and if I don't make a move quickly, I'll find myself presumed guilty till I can prove myself innocent."

"Well," said he, and shrugged wearily, "there's something in what you say."

Five minutes later I was pulling up before the big iron gates of the Chateau la Vague.

I walked up to the front door and rang the bell. It was a good minute and a half before foot-steps approaching told me that my summons had been heard, and a burly man in blue cotton overalls appeared, feather duster in hand.

"Pardon," said he when I told him my business. "I will ask the Mees," and disappeared on that, leaving me to kick my heels for another five minutes.

It was a woman who appeared this time, and as I caught sight of her I had hard work to keep my surprise hidden. She was a tall, angular female, dressed in a faded cotton dress, her large feet encased in white sandshoes. Her brown hair, streaked with gray, was gathered in a microscopic knot at the nape of her neck, and her short-sighted eyes peered at me through rimless eyeglasses. It was the woman Jean-Francois had described.

"You wish a room?" she asked. "Yes, my name is Archibald Lumsden, and I'm staying with my friend, Mr. Hugo Stern, at the Chateau d'Amour, but I'm obliged to remain in Cannes longer than I expected, and I don't want to inconvenience him. The chateau is small, you see, and this hotel is conveniently close—"

As I spoke my name I saw her draw in her breath slightly, but her face was completely expressionless.

"Mr. Lumsden?" she said. "A fellow-countryman! That will be nice, if we have a room, but I am not sure. One minute, if you please."

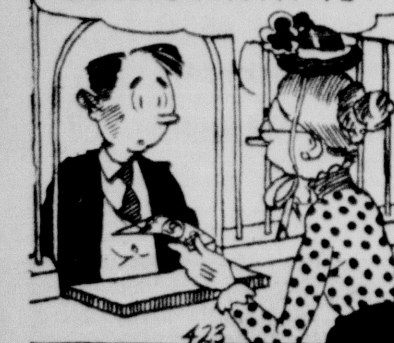

She vanished, leaving me still standing on the doorstep. A big black dog had approached and I stooped and scratched experimentally under one big, soft ear.

"Down, Lulu!" said the woman's voice suddenly, and I looked up, startled to find her standing above me. "Lulu belongs to a gentleman who lives here," she explained in a puzzled voice. "Usually he will have nothing to do with strangers. I have asked about your room, Mr.—" she paused with what I felt was an artificial hesi-

WILL YOU PLEASE GIVE ME TWO TENS FOR A FIVE

A request was made of a bank teller one day that was perfectly within his line of duty but had him stumped for awhile. A little, old lady walked up to the window and handed him a twenty-dollar bill. "Please, sir," she said, "will you change this for me? I'd like to have the change in dollars and half dollars and I need one more half-dollar than dollar bills." "Yes, madam," said the clerk but he had a hard time figuring it out. Can you?

Answer to Yesterday's Twizzler

sharply under his breath, for there, black and sinister on the snowy mattress-cover, lay a small, wicked-looking Browning pistol. The American pulled out a vast linen handkerchief, wrapped it round the gun, and held it up gingerly. He unclipped the magazine and examined the pistol. "As nice a little silencer as I've ever seen," he commented approvingly. "And just the one shot fired. Gentleman!"—he swung round on us, and his big face was suddenly immensely serious—"I take it I don't have to tell you where that bullet found its mark?"

"You mean," I said hoarsely, "that that's the gun that killed Eve Monet?"

He inclined his head. "But who the deuce put it there?" I demanded, and then stopped short, a sudden, uncomfortable thought had struck me. Jean-Francois had been alone in this room a few short hours back; Jean-Francois had sat on that very bed.

"Mr. Lumsden," said he gravely, "I'll answer your question by another. Why is Mr. Rene Geiss so determined to put the blame for the killing on you? Just a minute—" He held up a hand as I would have spoken. "I'll be frank with you. That's one place where you know more than I do, I'm in the dark about it, but unless we get together pretty soon and pool our knowledge—"

He broke off suddenly in his turn and held up his hand for silence. "We're too late," he said. "That was a car in the lane, and the forces of law and disorder will shortly be demanding admittance. Take my advice and don't obstruct them. Let them do their worst." (Copyright, 1933, Max Saltmarsh)

Turner and Ortman to Battle For $102,000 in Prize Stakes

One of those Ruth-Gehrig rivalries has built itself up in air racing. The duel is between the colorful veteran, Col. Roscoe Turner and young Earl Ortman, west coast speed specialist who will meet again as competitors at National Air Races, Cleveland, Sept. 3, 4, and 5.

Turner has the Ruthian color and power. His winning method has always been to blow the opposition down, but always with a dash and flourish reminiscent of Ruth's palmist days. Ortman, on the other hand, is definitely the strong, silent man of air racing. He is quiet, grim, and determined, but a very tough competitor when the race is on.

Turner was famous as a speed pilot before Ortman took to the air. He had set a long string of records and blazed home the winner in many a speed event before Ortman won his first race.

Ortman's first urge to become a top-flight racing pilot came at the first National Air Race meet at Cleveland in 1929. Earl, just out of high school, was inspired by the speed and technique of such performers as Turner, Benny Howard, Jimmy Hazlip, and Jimmy Doolittle. The game looked good to him, and he decided to go for it, which he did, in a big way.

Ortman, the youngest of the super-speedsters, has come up fast. With Ortman's rise to top ranking Turner has run into a string of heart-breaking luck with Earl nosing him out too many times to suit the Colonel, who, like Ruth, likes to be top man.

It all reached a peak at Oakland on Decoration Day. In the feature closed course speed event of the day, with $12,400 in prize money to shoot at, Ortman and Turner chased each other for 150 miles. Turner taking the lead three separate times, only to be nosed out by Ortman in a hair-line finish. Result, Ortman $5,000, Turner $2,500, both breaking the world's record for closed course speed racing.

The battle will be renewed again during the three-day National Air Race program at Cleveland, a total of $102,000 in prize money taking care of any competitive details that may have been overlooked. The Thompson Trophy Race on Labor Day afternoon, for the international closed course championship, will bring the feud to a blistering finish for the year, the winner's share of the $45,000 Thompson stake going with the glory of being crowned 1933 champion.

DIXON BECOMES FAIR-MINDED AS AUGUST 26 NEARS

Buying Public Will Be Increased by Visitors In the City

As August 26 approaches, Dixon becomes fair-minded! It seems but a short time since the townspeople, here and about, were exclaiming over the fine high bred stock, the excellent needlework and cookery, the beautiful display of vegetables submitted by Lee county residents. In reality, it has been a whole year since the last Lee County Fair.

During that period an earnest group of individuals has been working to improve upon the past fairs, and to bring to the public this year a Lee County Fair big, better and better in every way. Such a huge community enterprise as this has grown to be requires much planning, careful action and untold detail.

The Horse Show, which is one of the features of the three day Fair will undoubtedly be outstanding, since the sponsors of it have affiliated with the Northern Illinois Horse Show Association which assures a fine entry list.

Dr. Z. W. Moss of this city is president of the newly organized group and he states that already much benefit has been derived from their planning together the time for the horse shows and thus eliminating conflicting dates.

Work For Permanent Show
Throughout the past years certain individuals have been steadily working for a permanent Lee County Fair and Horse Show.

Each year as the fair increases in size and efficiency new names and individuals are added to the list. There is much pleasure connected with the sponsoring of a fair but a heap sight more work. It one looks at this thing, called a fair, a bit quizzically, it might be termed a Magic-Mixer or a Rural-Urban instrument of good will and understanding.

It gives a little thrill of anticipation to the housewife who might, otherwise, consider the

Frances Bartholomew Makes Special Event of 11th Anniversary

A dinner table seated ten young guests last evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Harold C. Bartholomew, who were celebrating the eleventh birthday anniversary of their little daughter, Frances. A birthday cake, dressed in gay icing, boasted 11 pink candles.

The birthday celebration started with a matinee party. Games were played at the Bartholomew home after the show, until time for the birthday dinner. Toy birds were special favors, and a search for wooden apples containing miniature tea sets was part of the fun.

Wishing Frances a happy birthday were Suzanne Swarts of Rockford, Shirley Snader, Shirley Donoho, Deloris Fallstrom, Mary Kathryn Pessink, Patricia and Janet Richardson, Eleanor Jones and Virginia Bryant.

Frances will be a sixth grade student at the South Central school in September.

Dixon Country Club Women to Hold One-Day Golf "Marathon"

There will be golf widowers instead of golf widows in the Dixon Country club ranks on Friday, for women of the club will be on the links from dawn until dark, if their endurance lasts that long. Play is to be in the form of a one-day "marathon," with a prize for the one turning in the lowest score for the largest number of holes.

Ten or 12 players expect to tee off at 7 A. M. and plan to continue the elongated flight until 1 o'clock in the evening. Since the time element will be an important factor to the entrants, they have been promised right of way on the course for the entire day.

EICHENBERGERS TO LEAVE DIXON

Friends of the Edward Eichenbergers regret that the family plans to leave Dixon about Sept. 1 to return to their former home in Berne, Ind. The Eichenbergers, who have four sons, Edward, Jr., Daniel, Charles and Alan, have resided in Dixon for about 10 years, their address for the last nine years having been 507 Hennepin.

Mr. Eichenberger is traveling salesman for the Winner Clothing House of Berne, of which Mrs. Eichenberger's father, J. P. Habegger, is president.

On Friday evening, the family will be honored at a picnic supper in Lowell park, planned by the session of the Presbyterian church, and members of a former Sunday school class, taught by the late D. E. Raymond. Supper will be served at 5:30 o'clock.

PENNSYLVANIANS TO HAVE PICNIC
Announcement has been made of the thirty-first annual picnic for Pennsylvanians and their descendants, to be held on the Community House lawn in Byron, Saturday noon. The Rev. Mr. Reppert of Roscoe is to be the principal speaker for a program of music and talks.

Coffee and cream will be provided for the basket dinner, which will be served inside the Community House in case of rain. John Fry is president of the association, and Margaret S. Wray, secretary.

LEAVE FOR KANSAS CITY

Mrs. W. L. Richardson and her three children, Patricia, William, Jr., and Janet, left this morning for Kansas City, Mo., to visit Mrs. Richardson's parents, who will soon be celebrating their golden wedding anniversary. Capt. Richardson brought his family to Dixon earlier in the month from the Philippine Islands, and plans to remain here with his parents, the A. N. Richardsons, until about Sept. 1.

HAVING DINNER GUESTS

Mrs. Arthur Morrison is having a few friends in for dinner this evening.

SOUTH DIXON CLUB WOMEN TAKE "DAY OFF"

Sightseeing, shopping, dining, and a matinee party were crowded into a delightful "day off," which women of the South Dixon Community club enjoyed yesterday in Rockford. The group, including 11 members and nine visitors, left for the city at 7 A. M. in the Ashton school bus.

The day's program included visits to Camp Grant, and Mississippi and Blackhawk parks. Enroute home, the party stopped in Oregon for dinner, later climbing to the top of Castle Rock for a sunset view of the river valley.

Arriving in Dixon, several of the group remained to make up their second theatre party of the day. Enjoying the day together were Mesdames Jesse Lautzenheiser, Walter Oetgen, Amy Wolfram and daughters, Eileen and Vivian, John Patterson and daughter Edna, Robert Leivan and daughter Grace, Roy Fisher, David Moore, Belle Mumford, Frances Schmidt, John O. Seigstad, Day Welty, Charles Krieger, William Joynt, L. F. Henry, Arnold Götzel, and Miss Lois Rooker.

Mrs. David Moore will entertain the club members on Thursday afternoon.

PALMYRA CLUB HAS ANNUAL PICNIC

A fried chicken dinner, together with an interesting program of games, contests, stunts, and horseshoe pitching, made a gay occasion of the annual picnic for members of the Palmyra Community club yesterday in Lowell park.

Among those attending were Mr. and Mrs. Harry Covert and children, Mr. and Mrs. Mark Williams and family, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Mensch, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Beede and daughter, Mrs. Verna Dodd and daughter, Charles Butterbaugh and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Emmett Reed and children, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Manon and children, Miss Anna Lawton, Frank Scholl and son, Mr. and Mrs. Ray Gilbert and family, Mr. and Mrs. Verne Straw and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Keith Swartz and children, and Mr. and Mrs. Bert Boynton and family.

The next regular meeting of the club is scheduled for Tuesday, Sept. 20.

DINNER GUESTS

Dr. and Mrs. Z. W. Moss entertained dinner guests last evening at "Whithorne." Their party included Mr. and Mrs. Fred Garner, Jr., and John Nolf of Grand Detour, Miss Thelma Bourne of Cheltenham, England, Mrs. John Ryan of Chelsea, England, and Miss Lucia Dement, Miss Bourne and Mrs. Ryan are guests of the Garners.

MRS. TENNANT GIVES BRIDGE-LUNCHEON

Mrs. Vern Tennant entertained 20 guests at luncheon at a local tea room yesterday, afterward inviting the group to her home, 310 Lincoln Way, where tables were arranged for an afternoon of contract. Mesdames David Boos, Gavin D. Dick, and Ralph L. Zarger received prizes when scores were added at the close of play.

ENTERTAINERS FOR GRANDDAUGHTER

Mrs. Henry Hess of Chicago avenue entertained at dinner on Sunday for the pleasure of her granddaughter, Miss Lois Lucille Hank, who leaves Sept. 12 for Normal, Ill. to enter Normal university. Covers were arranged for 10 friends of Miss Hank, who will be a freshman on the Normal campus.

FORMER PASTOR VISITS HERE

Storey Sisters are Brides in Double Wedding Rites

An impressive double wedding ceremony was solemnized Saturday afternoon at the Congregational church in Shabbona, in which Miss Arlene Storey became the bride of Oden B. Jorda, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ole Jorda of Lee, and her sister, Miss Edna Storey, pledged nuptial vows with Bernard J. George, son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles George of Paw Paw. The brides are daughters of Mr. and Mrs. Lee Storey.

Nearly 250 relatives and friends witnessed the rites, read at 2:00 o'clock by the Rev. Mr. Towle. Guests were present from Earlville, Cicero, Leland, Princerville, DeKalb, Waterman, Bloomington, Lee, Malta, Steward, Aurora, Chicago, Creston, Paw Paw, Spring Valley, and Sycamore, Ill. Fairfield, Iowa, and Osborne, Kan.

Opening strains of "The Bridal Chorus" was the signal for the entrance of the sisters, Miss Arlene walking with their father, and Miss Edna, with their brother, Burl Storey. Mrs. Watne was at the organ for the processional, and also accompanied Roy Wormley, who sang Cadman's "At Dawning" before the ceremony, and "I Love You Truly" afterward. Garden flowers and hydrangea were banked against the altar.

The brides wore identical gowns of white silk rosepoint lace, designed on princess lines, with Queen Anne collars and heart-shaped necklines. Their veils fell from pearl-bordered caps, and they carried shower bouquets of lilies.

Miss Arlene's bridesmaids were Miss Mariann Swanson, Miss Edith Jorda, and Miss Martha Mullins. Mrs. Bernadyn Sawyer was her cousin's matron of honor, and little Miss Arlene Baile was her flower girl. Miss Edna's attendants included her cousin, Miss Gladys Houghtby, the bridegroom's sister, Mrs. Gladys George, and Miss Marian Ruth Challand, bridesmaids; Miss Jean Storey who served her sister as maid of honor; and little Miss Patty Lou Storey, the bride's cousin, who was flower girl.

Gowns worn by the bridesmaids, matron of honor, and maid of honor, were of sheer chiffon with eton jackets of silk lace. Their circular veils were held in place with flowers from their bouquets.

Miss Swanson and Miss Houghtby wore dusty pink and carried Briercliff roses combined with baby's breath; Miss Jorda and Mrs. George chose maize with Souvenir roses and baby's breath; and Miss Mullins and Miss Challand were attired in aquamarine, with Talisman roses and delphinium forming their bouquets. Mrs. Sawyer and Miss Jean Storey were gowned in dusty rose, and carried lilies. The little flower girls wore frocks of white flowered or-gandy with satin trim, and scattered rose petals before the brides.

Richard Colby, cousin of the brides carried the rings in a lily. Milo Jorda served his brother as best man, and Gilbert George was his brother's best man. Millard Sawyer, Howard Mullins, and Garland Richardson were Mr. Jorda's groomsmen, and Mr. George's attendants included Marvin Colby, Wesley Hanson, and Harlan Douglas.

Mrs. Lester Storey was wearing iceberg chintilly lace with black accessories for her daughters' wedding. Mrs. Jorda chose navy blue chiffon with black accessories, and Mrs. George was attired in blue printed chiffon with blue accessories. Mrs. Storey and Mrs. Jorda wore a corsage of lilies, and gardenias formed the corsage worn by Mrs. George.

The ceremony was followed by a reception in the church parlors. Two three-tiered wedding cakes, topped with miniature bride pairs, were the center decoration for the bride's table.

Later, the couples left for a wedding trip through the Black Hills. Mrs. Jorda left in a black and white ensemble, and Mrs. George was attired in a dark green frock with brown accessories.

All four were graduated from Shabbona Community high school. Mr. Jorda is also a graduate of the Northern Illinois State Teachers college at DeKalb, and will teach in the Brookfield schools this year.

Mr. and Mrs. Jorda will be at home after Sept. 6 at 3315 Prairie avenue, Brookfield. Mr. and Mrs. George will reside on a farm near Paw Paw.

Judy Jones has Gay Celebration on Her Sixth Anniversary

Her sixth birthday anniversary was an eventful occasion for Judy Jones, little daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Jones, yesterday, for her mother was treating 15 of her little friends to an afternoon party at the Dixon Country club. Playtime at the sandpiles and teeter-totter was followed by refreshments of ice cream and cookies, served on the screened porch.

Toy wrist watches were fascinating favors for the girls, and pocket watches delighted the boys.

BIRTHDAY DINNER

Birthday anniversaries of Miss Marian Palmer of Rockford and S. A. Bennett of Dixon were observed at a joint celebration Sunday at Starved Rock state park. Picnic baskets were unpacked at a table overlooking the Illinois river, and after the dinner, the party made trips through the scenic canyons, later crossing the river on the Illinois Waterways dam.

Younger members of the group went swimming in the afternoon, and the entire party remained at the park for supper. Attending were Mr. and Mrs. H. L. Carpenter of Polo, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Peterson and daughter Irene and son Harold, Mrs. S. A. Bennett and children Sally and Kenneth of Dixon, and Keith Kingdom of Chicago.

KINGS SCHOOL REUNION

The second annual reunion for former students of Kings school and their friends has been announced for Sunday at the school, located north of Harmon on the Harmon-Dixon road. The committee in charge promises an outstanding program, including an address by Elwin Wadsworth, Dixon attorney, whose parents attended the school.

A basket dinner will be served on the school grounds, and a large crowd is expected, as former students from a number of states have arranged their vacations to include a trip back here to attend the gathering.

HAS LUNCHEON GUESTS

Mrs. Frank Rosbrook of 515 East Second street entertained at luncheon yesterday for guests from Council Bluffs, Iowa, Evans-ton, and Highland Park. The visitors included her niece and great-niece, Mrs. F. G. Shepard, Jr., and little daughter Susan of Highland Park, Mrs. F. G. Shepard, Sr., of Evanston and Mrs. Shepard of Council Bluffs.

MISSOURI GUEST

Mrs. James Riley of Paris, Mo., arrived last evening for a visit with relatives. She will be dividing her time between the homes of her sister, Mrs. Vern Tennant of this city, and her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Senneff of Sterling.

WILL ENTERTAIN MATRONS AND PATRONS

Mrs. Vern Tennant, 310 Lincoln Way, will be entertaining at dinner Saturday evening for out of town matrons and patrons who served the Order of Eastern Star in 1937. Her party will number 18.

Whizzer White May Be the Ace Needed By College All-Stars

Chicago, Aug. 24.—(AP)—Colorado's Byron "Whizzer" White, who deferred his Rhodes scholarship studies for $15,000 and a season of professional football with Pittsburgh, may be the ace the college all star coaches need to trump the Washington Redskins a week from tonight.

The coaches still are after a good passer, and passing is a specialty of Whizzer. So the Colorado gridders, who reported this week after preliminary training with Pittsburgh, was down for his first real test in today's scrimmage.

A scrimmage also was ahead of the Redskins at their Ballston, Va., camp. From the workout was expected to come a definite line on the squad which will oppose the collegians.

The Boy Scout Troop No. 70 of Paw Paw met on Tuesday evening of this week in the club rooms after several weeks of inactivity. Plans were discussed for the fall program.

The troop is now re-registered with nine boys on the roll, several having dropped from the membership of the troop. Those who have re-registered are: Earl Tyreman, Junior Brewer, Kermit Knetsch, Virgil Zeleski, second class scouts; Dean Snow, Jimmy Rafferty, Bill Wise, Robert Brewer and Gerald Zeleski, tenderfoot scouts. Roger Miller made formal application for membership, and upon the completion of his tenderfoot requirements in October will be given membership.

One application for a merit badge in masonry was filled out for Earl Tyreman.

The Scout committee is now composed of the following persons: Dr. Stephen Wojcik, chairman; Ferris Avery, Harry Town, Harley Rosenkrans and Louis Miller, with Rev. Lloyd Coleman, Scoutmaster.

YOU'LL LIKE THE HORSE SHOW

The Lee County Fair and Horse Show which will take place in Dixon on Friday, Saturday and Sunday, August 26th, 27th and 28th, has become an annual event of major importance in Lee County and this year's program promises to make the fair much better and more interesting than ever before.

Great credit is due to the civic minded Lee County residents who have given so much in time, effort and money and to the businessmen and other local interests who have sponsored and given financial backing to the undertaking. The fair directs interest and draws crowds to Dixon from great distances and is a splendid thing for the city and county. It is purely a civic enterprise and not for personal profit for anyone.

Now, the least that the residents of this city and county can do is to show their appreciation of the fine entertainment that has been provided for them by attending the fair at the Dixon Airport and giving their enthusiastic support to the project.

THE NEW DEAL AND THE MONROE DOCTRINE GO TRAVELING

In speeches at Kingston, Canada, and the international Thousand Islands bridge President Roosevelt extended the Monroe doctrine to cover Canada and thrust the New Deal and the TVA principles into Canadian affairs.

In regard to the application of the New Deal to the international rapids of the St. Lawrence river, that might have been expected. The president's watery and power speech further complicated a project that has been in the public mind for more than a century, and could well cause responsible Canadian statesmen to reconsider the whole matter in an entirely new light.

The speech in regard to American defense of Canadian shores created considerable stir abroad. British statesmen interpreted the talk as an adherence of the United States to England's position in Europe, a construction in which they may be disappointed. French officials went even further and saw the speech as a dedication of the United States to the Franco-British alliance against aggressor nations, a thing which even Roosevelt in his burst of enthusiasm may not have meant.

Of course, the United States is interested in Canada because Canada is a friendly neighbor against which we have not been compelled to build extensive fortifications. We need not tremble every time a Canadian in uniform looks toward our northern border. Every speech by a Canadian premier need not be searched and digested carefully to see whether it contains a threat to United States territorial and political integrity. To that extent at least we have an ideal situation and naturally we wish to see it continued indefinitely. In case a foreign empire should attack Canada we could not watch indifferently while our friendly neighbor is gobbled up. Further than that we should not be committed as a nation because the premise is so indefinite. What power threatens Canada? If Canada were threatened would the British permit their ships and troops to lie idly while we assumed the defense of another country's territory?

The president, for building-up purposes has set up a straw man and knocked it down with an oratorical flourish. The unfortunate part of the whole thing is that somebody may take the protective attitude at more than its face value, and be disappointed later in a practical situation.

We all remember the bridge dedication speech in Chicago where the president donned his shining armor and transfixed the aggressor nations with a deadly thrust of his quarantine. He mentioned practical co-operation to put the roadies in their place. Then he went back to Washington and followed the internationally political expedient of going blind.

Second thought probably will recommend that British military and naval authorities keep their powder dry.

In interviews the president refuses generally to answer what he calls "if questions," meaning "What would you do, if—?" But in his international relations he has boldly committed this nation, for an indefinite time and under any circumstance, to defend another empire's dominion, if—.

SNEEZING TIME AT HAND

An unidentified friend sends a clipping reminding us that hay fever time is at hand, if not already here. Physicians are reporting success in some cases with various types of immunization, and we understand that there will be a mask designed to filter the objectionable pollen from the air.

A scientist demonstrated that hay fever sufferers will weep and sneeze even as high as 6000 feet in an airplane over hay fever territory, and that the air throughout the country carries hay fever pollen by the hundreds of thousands of tons. Judging by that test a callous non-sufferer might think that the mere process of cutting the weeds off the vacant lots next door would have little effect, except perhaps to lessen the concentration of the dose.

The hay fever addict may console himself with the knowledge that his affliction, unlike some others, is limited to the period between now and frost, a comparatively few weeks. No doubt the science that has reduced such plagues as smallpox, yellow fever, and malaria will soon get around

AT MUSIC FESTIVAL

Seven bus loads of young musicians left Mt. Morris Friday morning under the direction of Miss Beth Hower to attend the music festival in Chicago and play in massed formation. The group was made up of the school bands of La-nark, Forreston, Thomson, Cordova, Orangeville, and Mt. Morris. On arrival in Chicago they had dinner at the Stevens hotel where 2,000 people were seated at the second annual Chicago festival banquet. Mayor Kelly of Chicago gave the address of welcome and Philip Maxwell, president of the music festival was toastmaster. Among the program highlights were the talks by Nobel Cain and solo by Jessica Dragonette. Many were especially thrilled by the fact that two movie favorites, Frances Langford and John Hall, who were recently married, were guests at the banquet and were very gracious in giving their autographs to those asking. The music festival dancers also presented a beautiful ballet number. Following the banquet the musicians were taken by bus to Elkhart, Ind., where they arrived about 8:30 and were entertained at another banquet by the Chamber of Commerce at the Elkhart Y. M. C. A., and a party at the Y. W. C. A. gymnasium in the evening. During the party, Miss Carolyn Fitch, sang "Josephine." The young people stayed in Elkhart all night and in the morning made a tour of the band instrument factories and returned to Chicago in the afternoon, leaving for home about 10:30 in the evening. Assisting Miss Beth Hower in chaperoning the party of young folks were her mother and sister, Miss Wanda of La-nark and Mrs. Fred Steffen, Mrs. Ray Blecker and Mrs. Hannah Redenour, Bert Davis and Matthias Huthausen met the party at Elkhart and enjoyed the festivities in that city. They are band alumni.

HAWKS, FAMOUS FLIER, DIED AS HE PROPHESED

Speed Flier and Single Passenger Fatally Hurt in Crash

Buffalo, N. Y., Aug. 24—(AP)—Death came last night to Lieut. Commander Frank M. Hawks, world famous speed flier, as he had predicted—in an airplane.

The 41-year-old aviator who turned a year ago from speed flying to the aviation business, struck some wires and crashed in flames on a polo field a few miles from Buffalo.

Hawks, who told a friend some years ago "I expect to die in an airplane," and J. Hazard Campbell, upstate socialist and sportsman who had accepted an invitation for a trial spin in a small plane Hawks' company sells, were fatally injured.

Horrified friends, who had watched the take-off from the small field, heard the plane crash behind a clump of trees. They saw a flash as flame shot high in the air.

They pulled Hawks from the controls of the blazing ship and dragged Campbell from beneath a crumpled wing. The injured men were taken to a Buffalo hospital in ambulances. Neither regained consciousness.

Had Four Leaf Clover

Hawks was flying a small Gwinn Aircar, a plane designed for private flying. He carried a four leaf clover a friend had given him for "good luck" a few minutes before the take-off.

Edmund P. Rogers, from whose estate Hawks and Campbell took off, described the crash:

"Commander Hawks landed on our field about 5 P. M. and offered to take myself or any of our guests for a ride. Campbell climbed in first.

"The plane lifted in the air and Hawks tilted it 50 feet above the ground to enable it to pass between two tall trees. As he passed out of sight it looked as though he had not been able to gain sufficient altitude and was trying to bring the plane down.

"Just as the plane disappeared we heard a loud crash and a flash of flame shot up behind the trees. We knew he had struck the electric wires and telephone poles.

"Clothes on Fire
"We ran to the plane and found Hawks inside the burning machine on the seat. His clothes were on fire so we stripped him and pulled him away.

Rogers said Campbell was thrown from the plane and pinned under a crumpled and blazing wing.

The crash had ripped down all telephone and light wires serving the community and Rogers and his friends had to go several miles to summon aid.

M. R. Carlin, a transport pilot of New York City had flown to Buffalo with Hawks in the small plane.

"He said he'd rather fly one of these than any other plane," Carlin said. "He had given up all other pilot ratings but the one he used on the Aircar."

Hawks was vice-president in charge of sales for the Gwinn Aircar Corporation.

Joseph M. Gwinn, president, said Hawks had been making demonstration flights for the company during the past year.

Record 10 Years Ago

Hawks established himself as one of the nation's greatest speed pilots about 10 years ago, when he set a record for nonstop flight from Los Angeles to New York.

Then in five years he blazed a trail of records across the United States and Europe that gave him claim to no less than 214 point-to-point records.

A love for aviation led him to far corners of the world, promoting flying. He was an accomplished glider pilot, but was never happier than when at the controls of a speedy ship.

Hawks lived in Redding, Conn., and had planned to return home last night. His wife was notified of the accident and left Redding immediately for Buffalo. He died after she left Redding.

He retired from speed flying a year ago, when he accepted the post with the Gwinn Corporation. His announcement followed a crackup at Newark, N. J., shortly after he had made a record-equaling flight from Miami.

To Take Life Easy
At the time, he explained, "I've had my day. I passed the 40-year mark the other day and I've decided to take it easy now."

Besides his speed records, he had a number of glider marks to his credit. Towed by a plane, he once piloted a glider from the west coast to New York.

Hawks was born in Marshalltown, Ia., the son of Charles Monroe and Ida Mae Hawks. As a boy in Long Beach, Calif., he used a ruse to reach the airways. He posed as a newspaper reporter, offering publicity to get a ride with a barnstorming flier.

He confessed after he came down, and the pilot permitted him to be a ground assistant.

Washington—Probably the biggest question-mark in both Washington and Wall Street today is Felix Frankfurter, dynamic professor of the Harvard Law School and with an inside track as successor to the Supreme Court seat of Justice Cardozo.

The question-mark is in the minds of both big business and labor. Big business once considered Frankfurter a dangerous and incurable radical. Most of them still do. But some of them now think he has tamed down, might mellow with age, and in the end turn out to be their friend.

This also is the private deduction of John L. Lewis, the CIO leader. Lewis, usually uncanny in his judgment of men, is not quite sure about Frankfurter, fears that his liberal background might fade like that of the one-time crusader, Justice McReynolds.

Of one thing, however, both labor leaders and Wall Street moguls are convinced: Frankfurter is one of the most astute strategists in or out of Washington. When he wants things accomplished they get accomplished.

Some time ago he was arguing with his old friend Gardner Jackson of Labor's Non Partisan League. They both agreed on their objective, but could not agree on the strategy for attaining it. Finally Professor Frankfurter remarked:

"Gardner, you're a radical, I'm a liberal. We never can agree. You play with your dolls and I'll play with mine—but mine are more effective dolls."

SPRITELY SENATOR GLASS

Verily "A man may be so changed by love as hardly to be recognized as the same person." Friends and foes of cantankerous Carter Glass, 80-year-old Senator from Virginia, are torn between amazement and amusement at reports of his possible marriage.

At the last session of Congress, Senator Glass' health was a matter of grave concern to his friends. He was accompanied to and from the Senate chamber by a trained nurse. Once he was forced to retire to his Virginia home because of health.

But now the Senator is a changed man. He looks younger and more vigorous than in years—and all because of a lady. Worried, his children and grandchildren are bustling him off on a yachting trip, hoping he will forget his Indian Summer romance, but some Virginians would not be surprised if a bride accompanied Carter when he returns to Congress next winter.

UNWORRIED G. O. P.

Furious political battles are being waged from the rock-bound coast of Maine to the sunny shores of California but Republican National Headquarters is burning no midnight oil over them.

A group of newsmen talking politics in the National Press Club early the other evening got into a dispute over the date of a forthcoming primary. It was suggested that they telephone the Republican National Committee to settle the controversy.

"I'll bet," said an old-timer "that you can't get anyone on the phone either at the Republican National Committee or at the Republican Congressional Campaign Committee."

Two correspondents snapped up the wager and rushed to phone booths. Both lost.

ROOSEVELT VS. A. F. OF L.

President Roosevelt is taking up the challenge of the A. F. of L. on Labor Board Commissioner Donald W. Smith.

The 39-year-old Pennsylvania New Dealer will be reappointed

ly after he had made a record-equaling flight from Miami.

France and other parts of western Europe receive less rain than the eastern United States, but, since the showers are lighter and more frequent, less water is lost by draining than in this country, where more sunny days and harder rains are more common.

LET'S EXPLORE YOUR MIND

A fascinating pastime with

Albert Edward Wiggam, S. S.
Author of
"THE MARKS OF A CLEAR MIND"

"The keenest anguish known to human nature is the pain of a new idea," (Bagehot). We hope this column brings you pain.

Answer to Question No. 1—

1. I find it hard to get it up over the notion that this is going to become a woman's world. Even if the custom does develop of women doing a little more active courting than Queen Victoria would sanction, I rather think it would help many a bashful man over the proposal hurdle. When half the human race—women—are held in a sort of social slavery and not allowed—indeed encouraged—to develop all their inborn abilities and to contribute their "feminine" points of view to our problems, I think nothing could bode worse for the world's future.

Answer to Question No. 2—

2. No. High living and dissipation do not cause brains to peter out, they only prove that brains and character have already petered out by unwise marriages. Whetham, sociologist, has shown that many of the old English families have retained brains, dignity, charm and unimpaired character along with rank and wealth for 15 generations. Huntington, Yale savant, shows that several of the families of the Mayflower Pilgrims have retained wealth, character and intelligence on a high level for 300 years. Wealth can be dissipated by economic disaster, wars, social and political changes, but nothing but unwise marriages can dissipate good family blood.

Answer to Question No. 3—

3. Their motives are mixed. One writer maintains they work chiefly for money but Prof. F. W. Tausig, Harvard economist, maintains that they work quite largely from the inner drive or "instinct" for "contrivance". No doubt most of them hope to make money but the inner psychology that keeps them working is probably more this contriving drive than anything else. Most inventors have been poor business men.

INSURGENTS IN SPAIN PROGRESS

Government Lines Give Grounds Slowly in Major Fighting

Hendaye, France (AP)—Aug. 24—(AP)—Government lines slowly gave ground today under repeated hammer blows by insurgent shock troops on the Ebro river front in eastern Spain and along the Tagus river in the west.

Official government dispatches conceded insurgent gains in both sectors as insurgent Generalissimo Francisco Franco's general offensive began to develop full vigor.

On the Tagus front, insurgents reported conquering 309 square miles in the past three days with an advance reaching a depth of 13 miles at some points. This sector is about 90 miles southwest of Madrid.

Insurgent dispatches said the veteran insurgent Legionnaires of General Andres Saliquet controlled the 50 miles of twisting highway between El Puente del Arzobispo, 31 air miles west of Toledo, and Puerto Llano to the south by capturing Puerto de San Vicente, central point on the road.

Government officials insisted, however, the strategic center of La Nava de Ricomaltillo still was in their hands, giving them control of vital communication lines to the rear.

Insurgent Claims

Insurgents were said since Sunday to have occupied six miles of the Talavera-Merida highway between La Nava de Ricomaltillo and Campillo and to have pushed eastward to dominate several miles of the highway to Toledo, 50 miles to the northeast.

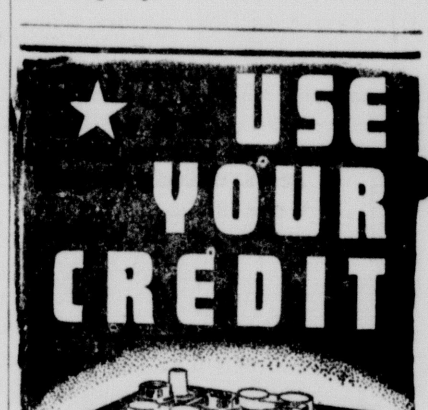

The advance, made after some of the bitterest fighting in the 25-month-old civil war, straightened insurgent lines linking the southwestern and central fronts. The insurgents have abandoned apparently the stalled offensive against the government's mercury mining area around Almaden, 60 miles southward.

Insurgents captured Gaeta Peak, just northwest of Villa Alba de Los Arcos on the west bank of the Ebro in Catalonia, and gave Franco a firmer footing for attacks against strongly entrenched militiamen north of Gandesa.

During four massed air battles over the lines on the Ebro front yesterday, the government reported its craft shot down 16 insurgent planes, Insurgents said, however, 17 government pursuit ships and three bombers were brought down.

Thomas Jefferson wrote his own epitaph.

52 "SAILORS" --- JUST BEFORE EMBARKING

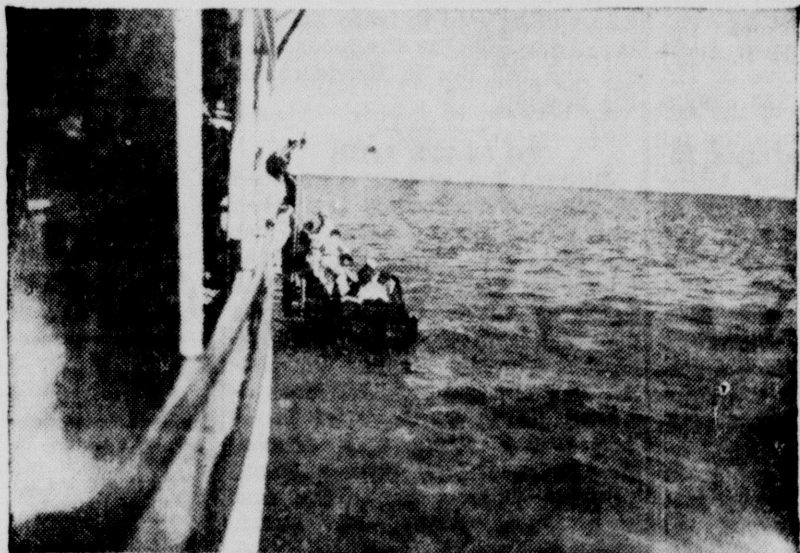

A three-hour cruise on Lake Michigan aboard the Walgreen yacht, Dixonia, was the highlight of a recent two-day stay in Chicago for 42 Dixon Evening Telegraph carrier-salesmen. The trip, which was planned by The Telegraph management as a reward for outstanding accomplishments in a two-week subscription contest among the carriers, also included visits to the Brookfield zoo, Municipal airport, Field Museum, and Shedd aquarium, a tour of the Chicago Tribune plant, and witnessing of the White Sox-Detroit Tiger ball game.

President Karl Adams Says He'll Welcome Investigation

DeKalb, Ill., Aug. 24.—(AP)—The state normal school board has ordered an investigation of the administration of Northern Illinois State Teachers' College.

Dr. Karl Adams, college president, said today "any investigation would be welcome."

Charges directed at Dr. Adams were made by J. E. Aischuler of Aurora, member of the state normal board and the DeKalb College advisory committee, at the regular monthly meeting of the board in Springfield Monday.

Aischuler declined to reveal or discuss the charges against the college president.

John J. Hallahan, state director of registration and education, was empowered by the board, however, to appoint a five-man committee to investigate. Hallahan is ex-officio chairman of the normal school board.

Will Be Delayed

Since the board reserved the right to approve the committee's appointments, the inquiry is not expected to get underway until after the board's meeting next month.

Adams said the committee will investigate the administration of the college, adding that he personally was not mentioned in the resolutions. Aischuler said, however, that the charges were aimed at the president.

The college has been the scene of previous investigations. In 1926 J. Stanley Browne, Adams' predecessor, resigned following charges of inadequate teaching, a low morale, and false certifying of athletes at the school.

At the June meeting of the normal school board, Aischuler introduced a resolution requesting Adams' resignation, but action on it was deferred until Monday's session. The board did not meet in July.

LEGION ELECT OFFICERS AFTER BIG CONVENTION

Rockford, Ill., Aug. 24.—(AP)—Edward J. Clamagne of Chicago is the new Illinois commander of the American Legion today.

He was elected by acclamation yesterday at the closing session of the department's 20th annual convention.

Clamagne, who served as senior vice-commander during the past year, succeeds Leonard Applequist of Aurora. Maj. L. N. Bittinger, commander of the Onarga Military School at Onarga, Ill., was elected senior vice-commander.

The Rev. C. G. Hall of Toledo, Ill., was elected department chaplain.

Mrs. George C. Heckenkamp of Quincy was elected president of the state auxiliary.

The 1,151 delegates spent nearly eight hours yesterday debating and voting on 120 resolutions.

One of the resolutions adopted called for deportation of all aliens who failed to apply for United States citizenship within five years of entry.

Other resolutions condemned racial and political intolerance, opposed "vicious and uncontrolled propaganda by those out of harmony with the principles" of the country and advocated state publication of a directory of dead veterans and their burial places.

Despite objections by the legislative committee, delegates approved by acclamation a resolution which called upon department commanders to work toward legislation exempting from taxation all property owned by Legion posts.

W. C. T. U. to Meet Friday Afternoon

Highlights of the organization's national convention held recently in San Francisco, Calif., will constitute the program for a meeting which members of the Woman's Christian Temperance Union will hold at 2:30 p. m. Friday at the home of Mrs. Fred Hobbs, 424 Barker avenue. Business of special importance will be discussed and afterward there is to be a picnic supper. Meat, potatoes and coffee will be provided by the committee.

HERE AND THERE

Mr. and Mrs. Ed Myers and son, Theldon, accompanied by Mrs. Myers mother, Mrs. Mary Myers and his sister, Mrs. Lee L. Hefley, both of Dixon, and Mrs. Myers' brother, Mr. and Mrs. Lee Mick and family of Dixon have returned from a delightful eight day trip to the east coast, at Somerset, Penn. They attended a reunion of the Myers family and stopped at Gettysburg to view the battlefields. They visited the cities of Baltimore, Philadelphia and Atlantic City and stopped at Cleveland, Ohio enroute home.

—Skate at Dixon every afternoon and evening. Private parties any night. (Adv.)

Mr. and Mrs. Alex Hanneman and daughters, Regina and Helen Louise of Odeboit, Iowa and Ernest Schwanz of Wall Lake, Iowa arrived Monday evening and are visiting at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Fred C. Sachs and son, Junior. Mrs. Hanneman and Mr. Schwanz are cousins of Mr. Sachs. The Iowa guests will remain about a week and visit other relatives here.

Miss Marjorie Duhme of Preston, Iowa visited at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Attig and daughter, Corinne the past week. Mr. Duhme and Miss Attig are college friends, both attending Cornell at Mt. Vernon, Ia.

Miss Clara Krug who is employed at the Home Town bakery is enjoying a week's vacation from her duties. Miss Krug departed for Chicago this morning where she will visit at the home of her friend, Miss Leonore Brash and other friends and relatives in the city. At Oak Park she will be a guest at the home of her brother, Mr. and Mrs. Roy Krug.

The Misses Lillian and Mary Haentsch moved Monday to the upstairs apartment in the Mrs. Minnie L. Krug residence. They will remain there while their own home is being remodeled.

Mrs. Carl Stephan entertained a group of 14 little guests on Saturday afternoon from three to five in honor of her daughter, Natella, who was celebrating her eighth birthday. Because of the rainy weather the games were played indoors but all had a good time. Natella received many nice gifts from her friends. Refreshments of individual birthday cakes, chocolate cookies and ice cream were served and each one present received a candy bar.

Mr. and Mrs. James Irving Lord have as their guests this week, Mrs. Lord's parents, Mr. and Mrs. William Wisk of Lockport, Ill.

Miss Jean Nelson and Miss Mary Lee Hurt, former teachers in the local high school were guests over Sunday night and Monday of Miss Florence Ventler, Miss Nelson will again teach at Watseka, Ill. and Miss Hurt at Williamston, Mich. near East Lansing. Their schools start next Monday. They also called on other friends during their short stay here.

Verlis Tadd and Miss Winnegene Knapp, accompanied by Ernest Jacobson and Miss June Shottenkirk of Rochelle motored to Chicago Sunday and spent the day with friends.

Miss Corinne Attig entertained last Thursday evening with a garden party honoring her house guest, Miss Marjorie Duhme. Other guests included the Misses Ruth Boyd, Luella Henert, Marion Wetzel and Dorothy Ann Howard. A lovely outdoor supper was served at the fireplace in the Attig garden and croquet was the entertainment for the evening.

The young ladies spent a very pleasant evening together.

Henry Smith and his mother, Mrs. Martin Smith spent Sunday at the home of Mr. and Mrs. John C. Smith and family who reside near Creston. They went especially to visit Mrs. Smith who was the victim of an explosion which occurred at their home Friday evening.

A pressure pump in the basement caused the accident, and Mrs. Smith has both feet in casts which will prevent her from performing her household duties for sometime.

Shirley Kersten, little daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Kersten underwent a tonsillar operation at Rochelle Monday morning. The little Miss is getting along nicely.

George F. Schafer and Mr. and Mrs. Earl Vogel returned Monday afternoon from Dysart, Ia. where they went to attend the funeral of the former's sister, Mrs. Mary Vaupel and remained to visit Mrs. Vogel's brother and sisters at Dysart and Garrison, Iowa. They were accompanied home by Mr. Schafer's granddaughter, Miss Roberta Rommann who will visit here several weeks.

Tuesday evening supper guests at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Year and daughter, Ardyce, were Ernest Strubbe and daughters, Elsie and Elaine and Miss Arlene Wiechert and Edwin Wiechert, all of Melvin, Iowa; Fred Tadd Sr. and Mr. and Mrs. William Tadd and son Donald of this place.

Mr. and Mrs. William Sachs, daughter Rogene and Miss Dorothy Smith returned last evening from a ten day visit with relatives at Portsmouth, Ohio. On Sunday they attended the Smith family reunion.

Mr. and Mrs. Edward Klenke were Sunday dinner guests at the home of Mr. Klenke's sister, Mrs. Charles W. Vaupel and family at Malta, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Klenke of near Steward were Sunday afternoon guests at the Vaupel home.

Mr. and Mrs. Ed Lagasse and four children, Charlotte, James, Darlene and Janet and Mrs. Lagasse's sister, Mrs. Leila Scoville of Bloomer, Wis. who have been visiting relatives here spent yesterday at the home of Mr. and Mrs. George Webber of near Compton. The Wisconsin folks are leaving today for southern Illinois where they will be guests several days at the home of Mrs. Scoville and Mrs. Lagasse's parents. Enroute home they will again stop in Ashton. Mrs. Lagasse, the former Miss Elsie Whitsell, has many friends here who are happy to see her.

Mrs. Minnie L. Krug returned Sunday after visiting several days at the home of her daughter, Mrs. LaVerne Halsey of Rochelle.

Supt. and Mrs. John A. Torrens entertained as their guests over Sunday, Mrs. Torrens' parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. V. Wertz and little Miss Susan Crandall of Winslow. Sunday afternoon guests at the Torrens home included Mr. and Mrs. Al Engberg, Mr. and Mrs. Jay Nuldowny, and Mrs. Downey all of Rockford.

Mr. and Mrs. John Tallaisa who are visiting this week at the home of Mrs. Tallaisa's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Edgar C. Shippee, will leave Friday for Elko, Nevada, where Mr. Tallaisa will have charge of the grade and junior school music classes. Mrs. Tallaisa, the former Miss Ruby Shippee, and her husband are both graduates of Illinois Wesleyan University in Bloomington. They were married in Bloomington in June of this year and on Sunday were honored at the home of their parents when nearly 45 guests, friends and relatives from Rochelle, Steward, Dixon and Burlington gathered there in the afternoon between the hours of two and five. Baskets of garden flowers were used in decorating the Shippee home for this happy event and lunch was served to the guests. The best wishes of their many friends will accompany them to their new home.

Miss Roberta Rommann of Garrison, Iowa, who is visiting relatives here was a supper guest last evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Attig and daughter, Corinne.

Ernest Strubbe, daughters Elsie and Elaine and Miss Arlene Wiechert and Edwin Wiechert of Melvin, Iowa, are guests at the home of the former's sister-in-law, Mrs. William Tadd and family. Yesterday, Mr. and Mrs. Tadd, son Donald and their Iowa guests motored to Brookfield zoo. Before returning home the Iowa guests will visit Mr. Strubbe's sister in Indiana.

The Prairie Star school reunion held at Hunt's Grove last Sunday was well attended by nearly 200 former students, teachers, patrons and friends of this school. Over one hundred years ago the first log school house was built at Lafayette Grove in Ogle county and it was called the Prairie Star. There is now a Prairie Star school which is a one room structure and is attended by about a dozen children. Each year this reunion grows more popular and last Sunday three old timers made a special effort to be present. Eugene Clay Ferguson of Bloomington who is 89 years old, Judge J. W. Watts of Dixon and Mrs. Loretta Yates of Rochelle were those who learned their reading, writing and arithmetic in the days preceding the Civil War, and were privileged to attend the reunion last Sunday. A fine picnic dinner was enjoyed at the noon hour and the lovely weather added much to this delightful gathering.

Mr. and Mrs. Harold Farver and daughter, Ann, were Sunday dinner guests at the home of Lester Farver and sons, Kenneth and Raymond. Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Furman, daughter Joan and son Tommy of Rochelle were afternoon callers at the Farver home.

Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Fulton and daughter, Mary, and Mr. and Mrs. Adam Gonnerman spent last Wednesday and Thursday at Springfield where they attended the Illinois state fair.

Last evening a group of relatives gathered at the Faust H. Boyd home where a lovely picnic supper was enjoyed on the Boyd lawn. The guests were served cafeteria style and seated at individual tables. The event honored Miss Hazel Ross, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Ross of LaCanada, California, who has been visiting relatives in Dixon.

Besides the guest of honor the supper guests included Mr. and Mrs. Charles Ross and son Richard and Mr. and Mrs. Frank Myrland and son Dwight of near Lee Center, Elmer Greenfield of near Rochelle, Mr. and Mrs. William Killmer and sons, George and Alfred, Mrs. Elizabeth Schade and daughters, Sophia and Joan and Mr. and Mrs. Boyd and daughters, Misses Ruth and Esther. The evening was spent in visiting and home movies. Miss Ross is a home economics teacher in Covina, California, and will leave for Chicago this morning to meet a friend and together they will motor back to California.

Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Weishaar and niece, Miss Maude McIntyre of Des Moines, Iowa, arrived last Friday evening for a visit with Mr. Weishaar's sister, Mrs. George Schnell and family and other relatives. On Saturday the Iowa guests attended the reunion at Dixon of the Dixon college students. Sunday noon Mr. and Mrs. John Weishaar and daughter Mabel and Mrs. Henry Weishaar and granddaughter Shirley and the Iowa folks enjoyed dinner together at the Schnell home. On Sunday evening a picnic supper was served on the Schnell lawn honoring their guests. Besides the above mentioned guests the evening meal included Mrs. Mandel Kersten and sons Wayne and Lyle of Rochelle, Mr. and Mrs. Edward Schnell, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Weishaar of this place and Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Weishaar and family of Lee. The Iowa folk departed for their home Monday.

Mr. and Mrs. Lee Mick, son Harold and daughter, Frances of Dixon were callers last evening at the home of Mr. Mick's sister, Mrs. Ed Myers and family.

Miss Ella Vaupel and Mrs. Wesley H. Yenerich spent yesterday visiting their cousin, Miss Edith M. Fuller near Belvidere. Miss Fuller recently sold her farm and is moving the first of next week. Miss Fuller has many friends here who will be glad to learn that she is retiring from the strenuous farm life and will live in Belvidere for the present.

TO STATE FAIR

Richard Sunday took a bus load of folks to Springfield last week where they spent several days at the state fair. Those making the trip were Darrell Cross, Donald Scharpf, Glenn Canfield, Joyce Canfield, Eloise Cain, Mr. and Mrs. Harold Stevens, Harvey W. Heibenthal, Mr. and Mrs. Joe Hocker-smith, Ralph Kurth, Miss Hartzell, Will Hartzell, Ella Jacobs, Gus Kries, Ernest Wiener, Jacob Wagner, Charles Kurz, Mr. and Mrs. Jack Butterfield, Frank Kersten, Bert O. Vogeler, Jewel Dugdale, Bernice Boyenga, Ressler, Dan Utz, Lee Spangler, Mrs. Richard Sunday and daughter, Donna Maude.

HEBERT REUNION

A reunion of the Hebert families was held at Dysart, Iowa last Sunday with about 75 in attendance. A bountiful dinner was enjoyed at the noon hour which was served in the new community building. Following the dinner a business meeting was held. Officers elected for 1939 are: President, Mrs. Harvey W. Heibenthal, vice president, Jacob Henert, secretary, Burnell Henert and treasurer, Walter Voss. The reunion next year will be held on the third Sunday in August at Memorial park, Rochelle. Those from this community who were present at the gathering were: Mr. and Mrs. Walter Voss and daughters, Ellen and Delores, Mrs. Henry C. Smith, Mr. and Mrs. Jacob Henert, Martin Henert, Gus Henert, Mr. and Mrs. George Henert and son Bur-nell, Mr. and Mrs. Harold Henert, Mr. and Mrs. Ronald Linscott and son, Allen, Mr. and Mrs. Wilbur Burhenn, son Verle and daughter, Betty, Mrs. Harvey Heibenthal, Mr. and Mrs. John Huene, and Mr. and Mrs. Justus Wagner. Charles Ewald of Rochelle, Gus Heinzerth and son Lyle of Dixon and Mr. and Mrs. Edward Krug and sons of Rock Falls were also present. A musical program was enjoyed during the afternoon.

Justus Wagner received the cup for being the oldest member present who had not previously been honored in that way and little Delores Voss received the loving cup for being the youngest of the clan present.

RIGGS AND HUNT TAKE OVER FEUD LEFT BY HELENS

Tennis Players Have a
"Hate" That Will Be a Classic

New York, Aug. 24.—(AP)—The famous Helen Wills Moody-Helen Jacobs tennis feud may have come to an end with the withdrawal of Mrs. Moody because of neuritis, but never you fret—there's another one coming up that should keep the court bugs excited for years to come.

The Davis Cup committee has named young Joe Hunt as the fourth member of the American team which will defend the big trophy against the Australians at Germantown, Sept. 3, 4, and 5. Also on the team are Bobby Riggs, Donald Budge and Gene Mako.

Riggs and Hunt have a "hate" on that promises to become classic. The two young Californians don't speak to each other now, and by next year, when they probably will be playing the No. 1 and No. 2 singles positions on the American side, they doubtless will go armed when putting up at the same club.

Different Next Year.
It doesn't matter much this year, because Hunt will be around for use only in case of emergency. But it will be different next summer after Budge has joined the touring professionals, as he is expected to do.

Hunt is a tall kid who can bang a tennis ball, and he has plenty of fire and fight. He and Riggs battled each other practically all afternoon in the final of the recent tournament at Rye before Riggs finally won. When it was over Bobby didn't pause to shake hands. Just ran on into the clubhouse.

"The little so-and-so," Hunt commented. "He hasn't got a thing except stamina. I can beat him every day when my game's working."

Riggs was equally scornful of Hunt's game. Intimates say he has "had it in for Joe" since three summers ago, when their California association sent Hunt to the big eastern events and gave Riggs the go-by.

Sixty-Four Enter Stretch Drive for Public Golf Crown

Cleveland, Aug. 24.—(AP)—A fast field of shotmakers who learned the game between "punching out and in" at office, factory and shop today swung into the stretch drive for the national public links championship.

Sixty-four players, survivors of a two-day 36-hole qualifying test, began match play over the new eighteen hole course, longest and more difficult of Highland Park's two layouts. Two 18-hole rounds were on the day's program, with 18-hole duels continuing Thursday to 36-hole matches in the semi-finals Friday and the final title battle Saturday over the same route.

Favored players and "dark horses" studied both brackets. Bruce McCormick, of Los Angeles, the defending champion, who gets in his golf between tricks of fire fighting, still rated the favorite's role because of his victory in 1937, but he had a tough match on his hands today with Lloyd Nordstrom, of Davenport, Ia., medalist in 1935.

The chances of Walter Burkemo, of Detroit, were well liked by many observers. He captured medalist honors with a 141 total, getting a 69 yesterday on the new eighteen.

One public links honor was decided yesterday. Los Angeles' unit of McCormick, Don Erickson, George Lance and Neil Whitney won the Harding trophy, awarded the four man team with the low, 36-hole stroke aggregate, with a total of 584 shots.

As time passes, erosion softens the outlines of mountains; young mountains, thus, are the roughest.

FANFARE

By DON DANIELSON

BASE ROBBER

There is one kind of theft that gets the cheers of the crowd and for which there is no jail sentence. Kuhn leads the Dixon baseball team in the number of stolen bases with 15 to his credit. He does all right in other ways, too.

OFF TO SWIM SCHOOL

Ken Abbott, scoutmaster of Troop 89, left early this morning for Oconomowoc, Wis., where he will spend ten days attending the Red Cross Aquatic school. Ken was selected by the local chapter because of his fine work with the youth of Dixon and his athletic ability.

FOR EARLY-HOUR FANS

The finals in the city's tennis singles tournament will be played at 9:30 o'clock Sunday morning. If you get in early the night before, you'll be expected at the high school courts to swell the gallery and be rewarded by some of the fanciest tennis ever played in the city. Covert and Joslyn are the two contestants, in case you haven't heard.

LEBRE JOINS

George Lebre has signed to join the ranks of the hardball players and will be used in shortstop position in the Knacks' line-up. Lebre is a tops player and has demonstrated this during his season with the I. N. U. at the Airport. George has also been selected to play on the city's softball All-Stars team against the California Market on September 11.

JUNIOR ALL-STARS

The Dixon Junior Legion All-Stars will be after revenge when they meet the Sterling Juniors at Reynolds field Sunday afternoon. Sterling defeated Dixon, 8 to 5, when they played in Sterling. By winning Sunday Dixon can boost its average to 500 per cent. This is the last game Dixon has booked at present, but the manager is trying to arrange another game with Rockford Juniors.

IT WON'T BE LONG

The first morning that you leave your sleeves rolled down and wear a coat to work, you'll realize with a bang that the pigskin season is drawing near. The fireworks which will set off the season will be that classic event at Soldiers field in Chicago on the last day of this month—a week from tonight. Several Dixon people are reported to be making plans to see the game.

PRELIMINARY EVENTS

Several preliminary events are being planned to lift the curtain on the California Market vs. Softball All-Stars at the Airport ball yard on the night of September 11. Among the events being considered are race around the bases against time; punt and run to first; fungo hitting; catcher's accuracy throw to second; accuracy and distance throw from center-field to home. Two players from each team are eligible for each event and it is hoped that prizes may be awarded.

SUNDAY'S LINEUP

Ole Prestegard will be on the mound for Dixon Sunday in the Knacks' game with the 1937 state amateur champions from Oglesby. Windmiller will be behind the plate and George Lebre will be found during part of the game in shortstop position. Shires Miller has returned from his Chicago trip and will be in the Sunday lineup. Another large crowd is expected for the game and if there is an upset in the Welland vs. Walton game or the Paw Paw vs. West Brooklyn battle, the patrons will be watching the leaders of the league when they attend the game here. Practice will

END OF SEASON

The Dixon Park Commission's project of summer supervised recreation comes to a close on Friday after three months of activity. The approximate total enrollment of children on the playgrounds is 9,000. The staff and park commission wishes to thank the following for their kindness, co-operation and generosity in various ways: Dixon school board, Dixon Evening Telegraph, A. H. Lancaster, E. H. Prince, L. G. Glessner, Mr. Sarver, Mr. Barry, Mr. Bowers, Mr. Shick, Mr. Jones, Borden Milk company and William F. Wrigley company. On Monday afternoon the Dixon boys defeated Nelson 24 to 4 at Reynolds field. Yesterday a picnic was held at Lowell park and a hike was planned for today. Another picnic will be held tomorrow at Lowell park and on Friday the playgrounds will end their activities for the summer.

LEE DISTRICT PARTICIPATING IN SWIM MEET

The following Scouts from Lee district will participate in Class "A" division of the Blackhawk Area Council swimming meet at Fairgrounds Park pool in Rockford this afternoon at 5 o'clock: From Troop 67 of Dixon, James Van Matre, Don Messner, Junior Pierce and Edward Rinehart will enter the relay race. Don Messner will enter the breast stroke event, James Van Matre will enter the life saving carry and flutter board events. Junior Pierce will enter the back stroke, Dick Wilson the life saving carry and Edward Rinehart the diving contest.

Troop 72 of Dixon will enter Robert Whiting and Neil Bradley in the life saving carry. Troop 74 of East Jordan will enter Leland Hummel in the breast stroke, back stroke and diving events.

In the "B" division which is for Scouts weighing under 110 pounds Troop 89 will enter a relay team consisting of Ben and Lloyd Gilbert, Eustace Shaw and Garth Good. Lloyd Gilbert and Garth Good will enter the breast stroke and the life saving carry. Ben Gilbert and Eustace Shaw will enter the Life Saving carry.

Troop 72 will enter Marshall Bunnell in the flutter board race. Troop 74 of East Jordan will enter Leonard Hummel in the back stroke and diving events. Troop 97 of Amboy will enter James McKeown in the back stroke, flutter board and diving events.

All of the above boys won either first or second place in the Lee district meet held at Spring Lake in Rochelle last Saturday afternoon. The Troop scoring the highest number of points in the meet was 67 of the Grace Evangelical church in Dixon of which Delbert Rinehart is Scoutmaster.

For years plant breeders had tried to develop a regal lily whose anthers did not shed pollen on the petals, thus discoloring them. By chance it was discovered that bulbs subjected to X-rays produced just such a plant. Now this lily is registered in the U. S. Patent Office.

A man can go for 60 to 70 days without food; a dog 117 days; a scorpion 368 days; a spider 17 months; and a snake two years.

With Gene Barrowman and Ken Stuart yet to play their match to gain the final round in the second fight, three other hardies have won the right to play in the championship tourney, Sunday, Sept. 4th. In the first flight (which is so designated because the original bracket contained those who qualified under $5) Harry Lazier, Jr., will represent the upper bracket of the draw against Ken Detweiler, sole survivor of the lower bracket of eight.

Lazier, Jr., who golfs during his school days under the colors of Northwestern's varsity had a thrilling tussle with a bronzed lanky Em Rorer in the semi-final match. Rorer grabbed a one hole lead four different times against Lazier during the first twelve holes of their match last Sunday, but couldn't hold it against the champion. Rorer ended the match with a par on the sixteenth when both went over par for a five on this 390-yard hole. On the seventeenth, Em was on in 2 and made his putt for the match. The birdies were telling the story and they repeated on the last and deciding hole. Junior took a birdie three on nine. Rorer had a par 4. Lazier, Junior wins one up. Total scores were Lazier, 72; Rorer 73.

Lazier gained the right to meet Detweiler for the club championship by downing in order: Bud Prescott 5 and 3; his pater, Lazier, Sr., six up with 5 to play, and Rorer one up. Detweiler downed Frank Rorer in the first round, 5 and 4. Mark Keller in the second round 6 and 5; and Junior Joyce in the semi-final match 4 and 3. Genial Ken took a firm hold on the lead against Joyce early in their match and was never in trouble. Detweiler took the first three holes and held this advantage through the match. Joyce was a bit erratic on the first nine as indicated by his 40. He settled down a bit on the second nine but was too late to catch the fast-flying Detweiler who took the eighteen in a par-matching 72.

And so it is scheduled for Sept. 4th. Harry Lazier, Jr., versus Ken Detweiler for the championship of the Dixon Country Club of 1938. Both had 72's in their semi-final matches which would make one believe that the final 36 hole match should be hotly contested. As to picking the ultimate winner, one should be "velvety" veddy, cautious, but having seen Detweiler's coolness under fire when the blue chips were down, this humble occidental's opinion sees Detweiler as the ultimate victor. Still there are those who say that Lazier's game has been improving tremendously and who are backing the collegian for tiltist honors. Be that as it may, Sunday, Sept. 4th at sundown will see one of the two wearing the diadem of the Country Club for this year.

There will be plenty for the two-score plus boys to do besides play golf according to Fluher, so all of the "kids" are urged to be on hand for this congenial get-together.

The traveling team will pack up and take a jaunt to Morrison tomorrow to battle the Whiteside county boys. It is a battle of vengeance for Morrison defeated the locals earlier in the year on their own links.

The ladies have caught the marathon bug, it seems. Friday they are staging a golf marathon starting at 7 A. M. The general idea seems to be to play as many rounds as possible so I guess quite a few of our boys will be wondering "where the dickens is Sally?" around nine pm Friday. Well, maybe not but, but there will be plenty of sore muscles Saturday morning.

Armstrong Doesn't Want to Hog Field

Los Angeles, Aug. 24.—(AP)—Henry Armstrong, pugilism's triple champion, "doesn't want to hog the field. It's possible he'll give up his featherweight crown at any time," his manager, Edgie Mead, said today.

"To date, nobody has offered any real money for a featherweight championship fight," Mead declared. "I don't intend to have Henry work down to 126 pounds for chicken feed."

BRITISHER'S CAR RACES FASTEST OF ANY ON LAND

Bonneville Salt Flats, Utah, Aug. 24.—(AP)—Captain George E. T. Eyston pounded his big automobile through the measured mile at 347.155 miles per hour today, the fastest ever attained by man on land, but failure of an electric timing device on the return journey robbed the Englishman of a new record.

Eyston drove his seven-ton "Thunderbolt" at lightning clip down the 13-mile salt track and back again for the two runs necessary to establish an official mark.

The timing apparatus, which functioned perfectly on the first run, failed to register on the second just as Eyston roared into the measured mile in an effort to better the mark of 311.42 miles per hour he established here last year.

Eyston's time for the outward mile was 10.37 seconds, far ahead of his fastest previous single run, 11.33 seconds or 314.74 miles per hour.

Officials said Eyston traveled faster on the return trip than on the outward sprint, possibly approaching 355 miles per hour or nearly six miles a minute, but failure of the timing device frustrated him.

"I don't feel the run was at all in vain," Eyston said. "The new Thunderbolt ran perfectly. I'll run again just as soon as the timing eye is fixed."

Explains Failure.
The tough-luck Englishman explained that the bright morning sun caused the electric eye beam to fail. It clicks when the car's shadow passes through the beam.

Because of light refraction from the blazing white salt, "Thunderbolt" failed to cut the beam, Eyston said.

Eyston said he felt that his speed on the return run was "approximately" the same as on the first run.

Officials disagreed, however, saying the retired British army captain was too conservative.

Another Englishman, fur broker John Cobb of London is waiting for a chance to excel his compatriot's mark.

Cobb, with a shark-like car weighing only 7,000 pounds—half the weight of Eyston's—has net call on this glistening course astride the Utah-Nevada border.

Eyston, his face and coveralls begrimed with smoke, ordered his machine towed back to nearby Wendover, pending another run.

Officials said the electric eye trap failure could be overcome by shading it.

Yesterday's Stars

(By The Associated Press)
Whitely Moore, Reds—His five-hit pitching shut out Phillies 3-0. Thornton Lee, White Sox, and Lou Gehrig, Yankees—Lee set down Yanks with seven hits and clouted homer as Sox took opener, 11-3; Gehrig's four-bagger brought in one on nightcap, 3-1.

Terry Moore, Cardinals—His home run with bases loaded paced 18-hit attack that trimmed the Dodgers, 9-7.

Pinks Higgins and Jimmy Foxx Red Sox—Higgins got pair of doubles and three singles and drove in 5 runs as Sox beat Indians in opener, 13-3; Foxx's second circuit blow of game, with three on, won second game, 14-12.

Buddy Myer, Senators—Singled with bases loaded in 12th to beat Browns, 6-5.

Johnny Lanning, Bees, and Mace Brown, Pirates—Lanning whitewashed Bees, 6-0, on six hits in first game Brown's six-inning relief pitching enabled Pittsburgh to win second, 4-3, in 14th.

Harry Gumbert, Giants—Scattered Cubs' ten hits and drove in two runs with single as Giants won, 6-2.

Charley Gehring and Rudy York, Tigers—Gehring belted homer, double and single as Tigers routed A's in opener, 13-5; York's four-bagger with two on proved deciding margin in 8-3 second game triumph.

Montanez Returns to The Big Time Tonight
New York, Aug. 24.—(AP)—Pedro Montanez returns to big time boxing tonight when he meets Orville Drouillard, Canadian lightweight, in a ten round bout in Madison Square Garden.

Montanez, a leading contender for the lightweight championship until Lou Ambers cooled him off last September, plans to challenge Henry Armstrong for the latter's lightweight crown if he gets past Drouillard.

The rich iron ore deposits of northern Michigan were discovered by William Burt, a surveyor, when his compass needle began to spin violently.

IS THE CROW A SAINT OR A SINNER?

ANSWER: A survey made by a farm publication on the disputed question of whether or not the crow is beneficial to the farmer, resulted in about 81 per cent of the votes being cast to convict the bird as a definite "sinner." The damage done by the crow was listed as: Destroying of grain and fruit crops, killing of smaller birds, and pecking the eyes of small farm animals.

FDR CLEARS WAY TO GIVE AID TO BEATEN FRIENDS

Republicans Who Vote in Dem. Primary Indecently Immoral

Hyde Park, N. Y., Aug. 24. — (AP)—President Roosevelt, condemning reported Republican intervention in Democratic primaries, cleared the way today for administration support of an independent senatorial campaign in Idaho.

The president said yesterday decent political morality demanded that members of one party stay out of the primary elections of another party.

His statement was precipitated by a question regarding the political situation in Idaho where Senator James P. Pope, a down-the-line administration supporter, recently was defeated for re-election by D. Worth Clark, who pledged he would not be a yes-man for the White House.

There has been talk that Pope—who charged he was defeated in the Democratic primary by Republican votes—might run for re-election as an independent.

The president said he did not know what Pope would do, or whether he would have administration backing if he should make an independent race.

But Roosevelt's condemnation of Republican intervention in the Idaho primary gave him an open path to support Pope if the latter should choose to run independently.

Georgia and Maryland.

Besides Idaho, the president referred to Georgia and Maryland. In Georgia, he said, the Republican state chairman has asked his followers to enter the Democratic primary. In Maryland, he added, Republicans are being begged to vote as Democrats.

The president emphasized he was not concerned with individual candidates in his remarks about Republican intervention in Democratic primaries.

He said that when the members of one party go into the primary of another, they destroy the objective of the direct primary system. Such intervention, he added, prevents party voters from exercising their own will, and presents a question of simple political morality.

The president, asked whether his remarks would apply to O'Connor's bid for designation as a candidate by both the Democrats and Republicans, in New York, said that Democrats certainly should not go into Republican primaries.

With press conference questioning turning to other subjects, the president said he did not know whether he would speak in Maryland or New York.

He said he was in agreement with President William Green of the American Federation of Labor that clarifying changes should be made in the Wagner labor law.

He added that any changes would have to be formulated after extended conferences, between representatives of all labor unions, employers and the National Labor Relations Board.

CLAIMS UNFOUNDED
Boise, Idaho, Aug. 24.—(AP)—Fred Babcock, Republican state chairman, declared today "an analysis of returns from the Idaho primary does not bear out" contentions that Republicans went into the Democratic primary Aug. 9 in large numbers to defeat Senator James P. Pope, ardent New Dealer who sought re-election.

"If that contention were correct," said Babcock, "the total vote for United States Senator on the Democratic ticket would have been larger than that cast for any other office. The facts are that the total vote for the Democratic nomination for governor exceeded the total vote for the Democratic United States Senate nomination by about 3,000 votes."

HORNER STATE'S FIRST REAL FLYING EXECUTIVE

Described as One of the Best "Air Sailors" in the Capital

Springfield, Ill., Aug. 24.—(AP)—They're calling Governor Horner one of the best "air sailors" in the capital.

With a zest for getting around that keeps him traveling widely over the state, the governor has turned frequently to airplanes to meet crowded speaking schedules.

Monday he addressed the state convention of the American Legion at Rockford and flew back to Springfield before noon in time to greet the flying Irishman, Douglas Corrigan. Earlier this month he flew to Rockford to review the National Guard.

State house veterans say he is Illinois' first flying governor.

Occasional traveling companions, among them Secretary George Roberts of the State Aeronautics Commission, say he's at ease in the air and usually smokes cigars and puts finishing touches on scheduled speeches when he isn't surveying the scenery below.

Formerly he flew most often in a plane belonging to Laurence P. Bonfoey of Quincy, chairman of the Aeronautics Commission. Of late he has used a two-seated National Guard plane piloted by Maj. Clifford A. McElvain of Chicago.

Good Traveler. When he's in an army plane he wears a parachute, because it's government regulation, but at other times he doesn't bother with that precaution.

"He'd fly in any old crate," one of his aids remarked.

But he's still one of the railroad's best patrons here and his monthly automobile mileage runs into big figures. His policy has been to fly only when necessary because of the press of schedules. Rarely does he fly out of the state or at night.

Recently he demonstrated his motoring stamina when he traveled approximately 600 miles in a day with official stops at five cities. He visited families of deceased friends at Rushville and Edwardsville, drove to Elkhart for the funeral of former Lieut. Gov. Richard Oglesby, then to LaSalle for a church anniversary in the evening and finally to Chicago.

Moultrie County Leads For Third Month in Dairy Production

Urbana, Ill., Aug. 24.—(AP)—The Moultrie County Dairy Herd Improvement association, for the third consecutive month, has led all associations in the state in butterfat production. C. S. Rhode of the dairy department, College of Agriculture, University of Illinois, announced.

A summary of last month's reports showed the Moultrie county unit had an average of 35 pounds of butterfat a cow. In second place was Tazewell County No. 2 Association with an average of 34.7 pounds. The Ford county unit was third with 34.5 pounds.

The Moultrie county group thus had matched the Winnebago County Association No. 3 which led the state the first three months of 1938.

Leading Individual Herd.
The leading individual herd was owned by the Ash Grove No. 1 Dairy, Manteno, Kankakee county with an average production of 51.9 pounds a cow. The Jacob Yakey herd from Stevedardon, Moultrie county, followed closely with an average of 51.8 pounds a cow. Third place went to Inka Farms, Hampshire, Lake county. The state average of 27.955 cows on test last month was 27.2 pounds of butterfat a cow.

In fourth place among the high producing herds was: Herman Smith, Milford, 51.2 pounds, followed by Leonard Anderson, Walnut, 49.7; Adelman Farms, Barrington, 49.3; John Steinman, Melvin, 49.1; J. C. Schweigert & Son, Tremont, 48.1; W. W. Taylor, Hanna City, 47.6; and W. C. Storm, Gays, 47.6.

The remainder of the first 10 associations ranked in this order: Fourth, Coles, Stephenson No. 1, Lee-Bureau; Douglas, Jo Daviess No. 1, Livingston; and Iroquois.

ASHTON LIBRARY BOOK RETURNED AFTER 58 YEARS
(Ashton Gazette)

A $217 library fine is really something to worry about, but after you have had the book out for 58 years and the library is defunct and its officers deceased, well there's not much can be done about it.

Monday morning J. C. Griffith turned over to the Gazette a book bearing the stamp of the Ashton Library Association which was flourishing around 1880. The book had been found among the belongings of the late Mrs. Lilly Martin, a former early resident, who passed away recently in Rockford, and was brought to Mr. Griffith Saturday by her sons Riley and Dewitt Martin who with Mrs. Dewitt Martin visited here Saturday.

The little volume entitled "Owen Meredith's Lucile," was number 74 of the library. Officers of the association were Henry Ely, hardware dealer and former mayor, president; George W. Houston, who operated the grist mill then adjoining the elevator now known as the Iron Clad, secretary and treasurer; and H. C. Bird, bookkeeper at the mill, librarian.

FRANK FULLER, THE MAN TO BEAT IN THE BENDIX

Frank Fuller, wealthy west coast sportsman-pilot, is definitely the man to watch in the 1938 Bendix Transcontinental Trophy Race, feature long distance racing event of National Air Races, Cleveland, Sept. 3, 4 and 5. Last year Fuller, with little or no previous experience in long distance racing, and at the controls of a brand new ship, literally flew away with the event. He set two new Bendix records, Los Angeles to Cleveland and Los Angeles to Bendix, N. J., and in the process won himself $13,000 in prize money, against the toughest racing competition it is possible to assemble in this country.

This year the Bendix route is again Los Angeles to Cleveland, finishing at Cleveland Airport as the opening day feature of the 1938 National Air Race program Sept. 3, 4, and 5. Fuller is now air-wise. He knows the route. He has put in many flying hours since his 1937 triumph and knows just what his fast Seversky racer will do. Where he was an unknown quantity last year, in 1938 he is the man to beat.

But Fuller will have to fly his heart out to win. The richest stake ever posted for a long distance air race, $30,000 in cash, will sharpen the competition to razor edge keenness. Such air aces as Col. Roscoe Turner, Earl Ortman, second to Fuller last year, and other top-flight speed pilots will be on Fuller's tail all the way. Jacqueline Cochran, the world's outstanding woman flyer, is having a new super-speed ship built specially for the event, and is in it to win.

The rules for the 1938 Bendix further add to Fuller's problems. This year any type of plane is eligible throwing the race open to fast, long distance transport planes and even powerful military type ships. Pilots may choose their own routes to take advantage of favoring weather, may fly non-stop or refuel enroute. Certainly Fuller's 1937 record of 258 miles per hour from Los Angeles to Cleveland cannot stand up against this combination.

Fuller, however, knows the calibre of his competition and will be ready for it. The battle will be fast and furious clear across the country with a possible blanket finish at Cleveland Airport promising another thriller for the big opening day crowd during the afternoon of Saturday, Sept. 3.

CUBS DAY CAMP ENLARGED FOR TWO COUNTIES

Dixon, Polo, Mt. Morris, Oregon and Ashton Cubs Included

The Day Camp that was originally planned for the Cubs of the four Dixon Packs has been enlarged to take in the boys from all of Lee and Oglesby districts. The communities in these two counties having Cubbing are Dixon, Polo, Mt. Morris, Oregon and Ashton. Plans are being made in each of these towns to have Cubs attend the camp. Additional leaders are being recruited from the towns outside of Dixon in order to take care of the increased registration.

Details of the daily program are being completed as rapidly as the director, E. A. Rowley, can work them out. Among the latest plans are the following: The first period in the morning will include classes in all achievements from the Bobcat to the Tenderfoot requirements inclusive. Expert leaders and instructors will be in charge of each group. Among them are: Mrs. E. M. Bastian, Den Mother in the North Central Pack, will have charge of the new Cubs who have not completed their Bobcat requirements. Chas. Ramsay, Cubmaster of the Loveland Pack will have charge of the Wolf achievement group. John Roe, Cubmaster of the North Central Pack will direct the Bear achievement group. The Rev. C. L. Wagner, chairman of the South Central Pack committee will be in charge of the Lion achievement class. Orval Gearhart, Jr., Den Chief and Scout of Troop 89 will be in charge of the older Cubs who are preparing themselves for Tenderfoot rank in Scouting. Each of the above leaders will be assisted by a group of adult leaders and Den Chiefs.

Plans for the afternoon program include an afternoon of olympics, one of group games and a big soft ball tournament with each Pack entering a team. Able leaders will be in charge of each group so that every Cub will have an opportunity to participate.

Every Cub in Lee and Oglesby counties should plan on attending.

CHEERED SO LOUD SHE LOST HER VOICE
Anderson, Ind.—(AP)—Betty Netterville, 15, is going to do her basketball cheering with a horn when next winter's games start. She rooted so vigorously last winter that she lost her voice and could speak only in a whisper until the other day when her normal voice returned as suddenly as it left her.

Two of the new cruiser names, Atlanta and San Diego, replace retired vessels. The other two are designed as complimentary names for San Juan, Puerto Rico, and Juneau, Alaska.

A cruiser named Honolulu has just been completed, the White House announcement said.

President Selects Names for Warships
Hyde Park, N. Y., Aug. 24.—(AP)—President Roosevelt has approved the names for eight new warships.

The summer White House announced that the next four battleships to be laid down would be christened the Indiana, Massachusetts, Alabama and South Dakota. Four new light cruisers will be called the Atlanta, San Juan, Juneau and San Diego.

Recent congressional authorizations provided for the ships. Names for the battleships were provided by the navy department from the list of retired vessels, the names of those longest out of service being chosen.

The last Indiana and Massachusetts went off the navy list in 1920, and the last Alabama in 1921. The old South Dakota never was completed, but the portion of the vessel on which work had been finished was sold as scrap in 1923.

COURSE IS REVISED.
The industrial arts course at high school has been revised to include tin work, electrical work, metal work and welding as well as wood work. Sufficient new equipment has been purchased to make these changes possible.

A new electric stove has been installed in the home economy department.

A portable scale is the newest thing in the agricultural department. It was constructed by the Farm Mechanics class to be used in determining the gains of livestock projects. It is of unusual interest because, as far as is known, it is the only device of its kind in the state. A teacher from Texas uses a fabric sling and spring scale to weigh lambs while another teacher in the west uses a steelyard and tripod to weigh calves.

This scale has a capacity of 2000 lbs. and is easily moved from farm to farm. The rack can be tilted and animals walk into it as into a loading crate. After weighing the weight is raised from the scale, the trailer again tilted and the animal permitted to walk out. The lifting device which keeps all weight off the scale except during weighing prevents unnecessary wear upon the parts of the scale.

No single thing has stimulated more interest among the Future Farmers. They watch the weights of their animals with the proverbial interest a baseball player watches his batting average. The rate of gain is no longer a matter of guess work, from the time the animals are started on feed until sold.

In addition the scale will be used in classroom work. In their study of market classes and grades of livestock, students will have a scale to check with their visual observations.

Rochelle Township high school which now houses about 300 students has adequate room and facilities to care for 500 pupils.

One of the three new buses purchased this year to transport rural pupils is a 42-passenger International bus purchased from Ralph Cleveland.

TONSILS REMOVED.
Richard Wood submitted to removal of tonsils at Dr. Schaller's office on Saturday and is making a good recovery.

Atlanta and San Diego, replace retired vessels. The other two are designed as complimentary names for San Juan, Puerto Rico, and Juneau, Alaska.

A cruiser named Honolulu has just been completed, the White House announcement said.

One-third of the earth's population is Christian.
